COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1935 No. 63

SENATE

THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1935.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock, A. M.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We come into Thy presence, our Heavenly Father, with deep reverence in our hearts. Thou art a spirit and they who worship Thee acceptably must worship Thee in spirit and in truth.

A portion of our love and loyalty, a share of our activity—these do not satisfy Thy demands upon us; the Lord our God is a jealous God and craves our all.

Thou hast a right to our love and loyalty and activity in their entirety, for Thou has bestowed Thy all upon us, reserving nothing.

Teach us that true, lasting success comes only to him who forgets self in striving to honor Thee; and we can best honor Thee by ministering unto our fellow men. Enable the members of our Senate to practice self-forgetfulness as they face the duty of this hour. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BAUMER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 11 This act shall become effective thirty days after its final enactment and shall remain in force for two years after said effective date

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I wish to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that these tax measures are not only bills for the raising of revenue but they are also appropriation bills; the money which is to be raised under these tax measures is to be appropriated, under these bills, for unemployment relief. Last Wednesday night, after this Senate adjourned, I went to the hotel and purchased a paper, and I was startled to find this statement, under date of May 8, from Washington:

"A high official asserted today that the Government is planning to take command of relief administration in the States by July 1st. Most of the present State Relief Directors probably will be retained, it was said, but they will be responsible to Washington instead of to the Governors."

Under a joint resolution of this Legislature an investigating committee has been appointed to investigate the subject of the administration of unemployment relief; and the resolution which was passed by this Legislature asserts, as one of the reasons for the appointment of that committee, the fact that there is some inherent defect in the present system.

Under the original Talbot Act the relief in this State was administered by the Poor Boards of Pennsylvania. It was charged that those Boards were filled with politics; but if that were true, perhaps we should have a little more politics in the administration of relief, because $10,000,000.00 sufficed for the administration of relief for the whole year, and now it requires $240,000,000.00.

Speaking for myself alone, and not for the other members of this committee, it would seem to me that so far in the investigation one of the defects is the fact that the administration of relief has been governed by remote control; the local administrators or boards have been hampered by rules and regulations from Harrisburg and Washington; and what, it seems to me, is necessary is not to have a political board—we wish to keep politics out of it—but to have a decentralization, and some responsible local board or committee, elected, appointed by the Courts, or chosen in some other way, that can be held responsible for the administration of relief.

Anything that I may say I do not wish to be taken in any manner as a reflection on our Relief Director; but to put into the hands of Washington the funds for the administration of relief seems to me a backward step. In one of the recent sessions of this Legislature we witnessed the ignominy of the State of Pennsylvania giving up all control of its children under the age of eighteen years, and now we are asked to subordinate ourselves further and sell our State rights for a dish of pottage, and hand over $60,000,000.00 to Harry .. I mean Harry L. .. Hopkins for the administration of relief in Pennsylvania.

It is true we are getting funds from the Federal Administration, but it is Pennsylvania money we are receiving, and the administration of relief is a State and local function, and not a Federal function. By the passage of these bills we are putting in the hands of the Governor alone the responsibility of protecting Pennsylvania from domination.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 717 (House Bill No. 838), as follows:

An Act to further amend sections twenty and twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (P. L. 420), entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation,' approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine," by substituting a franchise tax on foreign corporations in lieu of the capital stock tax on such corporations imposing a tax for a limited period upon that portion of the capital stock of certain corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships and companies which was heretofore exempt increasing the rate of tax on the capital stock of fire and marine insurance companies and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that sections twenty and twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws six hundred fifty-seven) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 20 That hereafter except in the case of corporations of the first class and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit banks savings institutions title insurance or trust companies building and loan associations and foreign insurance companies it shall be the duty of the president vice-president secretary or treasurer of every corporation having capital stock every joint-stock association limited partnership and every company whatsoever now or hereafter organized or incorporated by or under any laws of this Commonwealth and of every corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever now or hereafter incorporated or organized by or under the law of any other State or Territory of the United States or by the United States or by any foreign government and doing business in and liable to taxation within this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of any limited partnership or joint-stock association company or corporation whatsoever association or associations copartnership or co-partnerships person or persons or in any other manner to make annually on or before the fifteenth day of March for the calendar year next preceding a report in writing to the Department of Revenue on a form or forms to be prescribed and furnished by it [stating specifically] Such report shall in addition to any other information required by the Department of Revenue set forth

First The amount of its capital stock at the close of the year for which report is made together with the highest selling price per share and the average selling price thereof during said year

Second Its debt account

Third Its income account together with the disposition of any net income and its profit and loss statement

Fourth Its general balance sheet

Fifth Its real estate and tangible personal property if any owned and permanently located outside of the Commonwealth and value of the same and the value of the property if any exempt from taxation

Sixth [The proportion of its capital stock invested in and actually and exclusively employed and used in manufacturing within the Commonwealth during the year for which report is made]

[Seventh] A valuation and appraisal in the manner hereafter provided of the capital stock of the said corporation company joint-stock association or limited partnership at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which the report is made

The affidavit of two of the officers of such corporation limited partnership joint-stock association or company shall be attached to said report Such affidavit shall be in the form required by the Department of Revenue but shall state in addition to any other averments required by the department that with fidelity and according to the best of their knowledge and belief the affidavits have estimated valued and appraised as shown in said report the capital stock of the said corporation at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which report is made not less however than first the average which said stock sold for during the year and second not less than the price or value indicated or measured by net earnings or by the amount of profit made and either declared in dividends expended in betterments or carried into the surplus or sinking fund and third not less than the actual value indicated or measured by consideration of the intrinsic value of its tangible property and assets and of the value of its good will and franchises and privileges as indicated by the material results of their exercise taking also into consideration the amount of its indebtedness

The time for filing reports may be extended taxpayers may be permitted to file their reports on a fiscal year basis the procedure in case the Department of Revenue is not satified with the appraisement made by the officers of the taxpayer and the penalties for failing to file reports and pay taxes shall be as prescribed by law

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the Treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section [and it]

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose nu-

merator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value

In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from (1) sales except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and sales otherwise determined by the Department of Revenue to be attributable to the business conducted on such premises and (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts from sales attributed by the taxpayer to the business conduct at such place of business in another state

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law for the payment of State taxes settled by the Department of Revenue Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly Provided also That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax [on capital stock] under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals [And provided] Provided further That the [provisions of this section] tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six shall [not] apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering for the processing and curing of meats their products and by-products [or] and for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said two year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering for the processing and curing of meats their products and by-products or for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on laundering the processing and curing of meats thier products and by-products or manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the [brewing or] distilling of [spirits or malt] liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of laundering or processing and curing meats their products and by-products or manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the laundering or manufacturing business or the business of processing and curing meats their products and by-products in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the laundering or manufacturing plant and business or the plant and business used in the processing and curing of meats their products and by-products Provided further In case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of [three] five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania

Section 2 If this act is declared unconstitutional by a final judgment order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction all the provisions of section twenty-one of the act amended by this act pertaining to the taxation of the capital stock of foreign corporations which were made inapplicable and inoperative thereto by this amendment shall thereupon become operative and applicable in respect to such corporations from the effective date of this act and such corporations shall for that period and thereafter be taxed to the same extent and in the same manner as if this amendment had not been enacted In such event any taxes which were settled under this act shall to the extent that such taxes have been paid and are unrefunded be credited against the taxes settled and imposed for the same period under the provisions of said section twenty-one which are again made operative and applicable to foreign corporations by this section Provided That if such credit exceeds the taxes due the excess may be refunded upon application being made to the Board of Finance and Revenue in the manner prescribed by law

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall be retroactive to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-five so that capital stock of domestic corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering for the processing and curing of meats their products and by-products and for manufacturing purposes shall pay the tax imposed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred thirty-six or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six in the same fashion as other corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and its provisions shall be applicable to the settlements of franchise taxes on foreign corporations for the year ending the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five or any fiscal years ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six

Section 5 The sum of eighteen million dollars ($18,000,000) derived from the tax imposed under the provisions of this act on reports filed for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five shall be used only for unemployment relief and for such purposes is hereby appropriated

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President and members of the Senate, in my opinion, we have under consideration in the Senate two bills, Nos. 1192 and 838, that, if enacted into law, will greatly increase the number of unemployed and to a large degree further delay the return to normalcy and place a new additional and to a large degree unnecessary burden on the manufacturers of this State. I subscribe to the humble philosophy that it is a mighty mean dog that will bite the hand that feeds it, and it is most unwise to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

For more than forty years, under the wise administration of great statesmen, Pennsylvania has prospered more than any other State in the Union. Its budget was always balanced, was free from any bonded debt, and its industries unhampered by restrictive regulations and confiscatory taxes, have sold their products in all parts of the world, bringing back a stream of gold that in normal times has enriched the workers and made the citizens of Pennsylvania, to a very large degree, happy and prosperous. Under this wise system of taxation Pennsylvania became the greatest manufacturing State in the Union, and trade, commerce and agriculture followed closely in its wake.

According to a report of the Department of Internal Affairs, published in 1931, there was invested in the manufacturing industry in Beaver County 221 million dollars. Under the provision of one of these bills the tax collector would collect additional taxes amounting to over one million, one hundred thousand dollars and under both bills taxes amounting to over two million dollars would be collected from manufacturing industries located in Beaver County alone and many of these industries have been operating in the red, or at a loss, for the last three or four years. As a specific instance, I would call to your attention how it affects one particular industry in my district.

In my district in Beaver County is a plant which was located there in 1930. The actual investment in this plant is nearly $3,000,000. The location of this plant was determined by an economic survey which indicated that the most favorable location would be in the Cleveland district, inasmuch as a large market for the products existed in that district. However, due to a tax study, of various taxes which would affect corporations, this plant was located at a greater distance from their consuming market, in Beaver County, due to an advantage amounting to several thousands of dollars a year in favor of a Pennsylvania location. The major factors in the location were cost of power, fuel, freight and taxes. The raw products which are processed in this plant are derived outside of the State and amount to 40% of the operating cost in Pennsylvania. This corporation operates in several States and while in effect the Pennsylvania operation has incurred a deficit every year of its operation. The corporation had a net income last year entirely derived from a western gold mining property. However, the application of the formula in the income tax bill would assess this company a tax of $4415.00 based on its 1934 operations on income earned entirely outside of the State. The application of the corporation foreign franchise tax as applied to this operation, based on the price of its capital stock on the New York Stock Exchange, would incur a tax of over $1,000,000 in excess of its actual capital invested in Pennsylvania. This company had a payroll in Beaver County in excess of $300,000 for 1934, and spent for power, materials and supplies in Pennsylvania a half million dollars. The fact that this company located in Pennsylvania because of a favorable tax attitude on the part of the State is a most powerful argument against these corporation taxes. It certainly will be inimical to the interest of the Commonwealth as a whole to pass a tax program on such conditions.

On a whole this tax program is based upon a program similar to that of the State of Massachusetts. That State has consistently lost capital industry due to its taxing methods; why should we pass a tax program upon methods which have been detrimental to that Commonwealth?

We have in Beaver County a plant that was constructed at a cost of over one million dollars. It is conceded to be one of the most modern and up to date establishments in the United States for the manufacture of ornamental tile. This fully equipped plant was sold to the City of Beaver Falls the other day for $8500, and I am advised that it will be given to anyone that will agree to place it in operation. We have the new, modern, fully equipped plants of the Fry Glass Company and the Fry Pump Company, whose products enjoyed a national reputation, and representing invested capital of over two million dollars. I am advised that either of these plants may be purchased for $50,000 or less; and we have many other plants, that have been unable to weather the depression, that will be sold for a song to anyone with sufficient courage to engage in the manufacturing business at this time.

I consider these bills most unwise legislation and I propose to vote against them.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Buckman,	Chapman,	Clark,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with informatioon that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 726 (House Bill No. 1192), as follows:

An Act to provide revenues for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment and collection of the tax and appeals to courts conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties.

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other State territory or foreign country or dependency and doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies and foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and surety companies and trust companies

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net income" 1 In case the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government subject however to any corrections thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government Provided That deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any taxes paid to the Government of the United States And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policy holders out of net income

2 In case the entire business of any corporation is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose

numerator is the expenditure of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employes and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from (1) sales except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and sales otherwise determined to be attributable to the business conducted on such premises and (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts from sales attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation Such tax shall first be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the Department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax shall first be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Section 4 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

(a) A true copy of this return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

(b) If no return was filed with the Federal government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

(c) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation at the time of making the report required herein shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for the preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid on or before the fifteenth day of May succeeding The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the time as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that any taxes found due as the result of an appeal to the court of common pleas or any appellate court shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date such taxes are due and payable until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court if such payment is accompanied by a protest that the whole or any part of such payment is not justly or legally due If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it or assigned to any other person or corporation for use in the payment of any obligation to the Commonwealth

If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

If any corporation shall certify to the department that its fiscal year does not close upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and that it reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or that it would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government then such corporation shall be permitted to make the report herein required within sixty (60) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act

If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The Department shall upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly a majority of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to the payment from the due dates fixed by this act at the rate of six per centum

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally charged or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make report under oath or affirmation to the department of such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any deduction made from the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the Board of Finance and Revenue shall have the power and its duty shall be to hear and determine any petition for the refund of taxes alleged to have been overpaid and upon the allowance of such petition to refund such taxes out of any appropriation made for the purpose or to credit the account of the corporation entitled to such refund All such petitions must be filed with the board within two (2) years of the date of such change or correction Any person aggrieved by the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in the determination of any petition for the refund of taxes alleged to have been overpaid may within sixty days appeal to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the board in the manner provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements

Section 8 Determination and Redetermination of Tax Penalties and Interestt Due (a) If within a period of two years after the filing of the report the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any corporation under the provisions of this act or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(b) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such corporation Within thirty (30) days after the date of any such determination such corporation may file with the department a petition for redeterimnation of such tax Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit of an officer of the corporation that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief The department shall within ninety (90) days after the date of any determination dispose of any petition for redetermination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of redetermination by the department

(c) Within thirty (30) days after notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the corporation against which such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies and shall be in such form as the Board of Finance and Revenue shall prescribe The petition shall be supported by affidavit of an officer of the corporation that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true to the best of his knowledge information and belief The Board of Finance and Revenue shall dispose of such petitions filed with it within ninety (90) days after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within ninety (90) days the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioners

(d) The department or any person aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within ninety (90) days may within sixty (60) days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements

(e) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and determine the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The Department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and assess the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of two (2) years such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully and corruptly make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report and to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 All taxes and penalties received and collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury and those imposed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five or the fiscal year beginning in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and collectible in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six or thereafter shall be used only for unemployment relief purposes and for such purposes are hereby appropriated All other taxes and penalties received and collected under the provisions of this act shall be credited to the General Fund

Section 13 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 14 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income for the two calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six or for the two fiscal years ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

COMMUNICATION FROM STATE TREASURER

The PRESIDENT. Pursuant to a motion adopted this morning, the State Treasurer has sent to the Senate a communication, which will be read by the Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Office of State Treasurer,
Harrisburg, May 16, 1935.

Honorable Thomas Kennedy,
Senate Chamber
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Governor:

I understand the Senate desires to be advised of the effect of the passage of the Gelder Bill on the General Fund of the Commonwealth, considered in connection with the present obligations against that Fund.

You are advised that on May 15, 1935, there was a cash balance in the General Fund of $5,986,756.88, to which amount should be added $2,344,000.00, representing transfers due the General Fund under previous legislation for disbursements from the General Fund on account of relief. This addition makes a total amount available in our General Fund of $8,330,756.88.

If $3,000,000. is taken from this balance, as indicated above, it will in no way interfere with the payment of the ordinary expenses of the Commonwealth for the remainder of the present biennium, except the payment of the recent deficiencies passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, in the sum of approximately $5,700,000. Revenue measures to meet this deficiency appropriation have not as yet been finally enacted into law, and until enactment which is contemplated in the budget now before you, the deficiencies cannot be paid.

Hence, while it is true that the $3,000,000. can be paid from the General Fund at the present time, it should nevertheless be remembered that our budget is out of balance, or will be on May 31, 1935, at the close of the biennium, in addition to the Deficiency Bill mentioned above, in a further sum of approximately $8,000,000.00 due to State-aided hospitals, homes, schools, and universities, which group of appropriations are classed as non-preferred appropriations.

Our experience in the Treasury has demonstrated that relief allocations other than cash relief in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh do not reach the treasury for payment for a period of from thirty to sixty days after the allocations are made. Hence, we would not be called upon to pay the $3,000,000 authorized in the Gelder Bill for at least that period of time. However, it should be borne in mind that while the cash is immediately available, its expenditure only should be considered in connection with the ultimate balancing of our budget prior to the close of the present biennium on May 31, 1935.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. WATERS,
State Treasurer.

The PRESIDENT. The communication from the State Treasurer will be entered in the Journal.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I understood that the motion made by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, was that the State Treasurer should come here personally to answer the inquiry—I may be wrong in that; but I want to point out, in the plainest terms possible, that the balance as reported by the State Treasurer, while it is stated to be $8,000,000.00—I want the Senate to know that the money is already obligated, and even more than that; and the State Treasurer states very plainly in his letter that the budget is out of balance now. I want to make the point that the $8,000,000.00 in the Treasury now has already been spent.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I am not interested in getting the State Treasurer himself up here to be interrogated; all I wanted to find out was the condition of the Treasury at this time. I hope this will please the Brother Crawfords in the Senate who are worried about their wives and children back home.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am perfectly satisfied with the letter from the State Treasurer; I think it gives the facts as far as it goes; but I simply want to state again that the money now in the Treasury is already spent—obligated.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 577 (House Bill No. 1281), as follows:

An Act to further amend section two thousand four hundred and two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by adding thereto clause (k) providing for the leasing or sale of gas and oil under lands of the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two thousand four hundred and two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" as last amended by the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred fifty) is hereby further amended by adding thereto clause (k) to read as follows

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

STATEMENT BY JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, It is with the utmost reluctance that I rise to speak for the justice of my own proposals. Legislation should ride to victory or fall in defeat on the merit it possesses. But we are being gripped in the hysteria of stampede by hired propogandists so that we no longer deliberate but rush to satisfy the desires and inventions of self centered groups whose interests justify an elaborate lobby and publicity service for the fostering of legislation applicable alone to the interests of urban peoples.

On February 6 the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, submitted to the House a bill providing for the centralization of tax collection. Exactly one month later the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw, submitted to you a similar bill. I have a deep seated interest in reduction of government costs. I organized and am now Secretary of the Cumberland County Taxpayers' Federation. I studied these bills with care and concluded that while they served the interests of city people admirably they failed to take into consideration the needs and interests of rural people. Consequently I consulted with a former clerk to the County Commissioners of my county who is now chief of the tax division of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore. I consulted with the Chief of the Legal Department of the same institution which now pays nearly $200,000 annually in taxes into the townships, counties, and municipalities of Pennsylvania.

I consulted with rural members of this House and with the facts gathered I went to the Legislative Reference Bureau for an open minded discussion with Mr. Fertig and an assistant. The outgrowth of all this effort is House Bill 1720, and in my opinion at least this bill provides for an adequate system of centralized tax collection equally adapted to city and county. The bill is not the expression of personal wisdom. I even recognize that the very skeleton of this intent is the property of my colleagues Messrs. Moran and Moomaw, whose names appear on the title. I seek no personal emulation. I ask no personal consideration. I bespeak your support should this bill emerge from the committee in the name of the farmer and backwoods laborer. I bespeak your support in the interests of democratic government and democratic principles because it provides for equal if not greater economy and a full net return to county, municipality or township.

I voted to excuse my county from the provisions of the Moomaw-Moran bills because I have made a careful study of the tax needs of my county covering several years. I am satisfied that great tax delinquency would follow the adoption of the Ohio or Indiana plan. If I am correct in this thought I can see no advantage in saving $30,000 in commissions for the sake of increasing our delinquency by $40,000 or more. I have consulted some of the wisest heads of our county with perfect agreement and I am satisfied that my position has been partly vindicated by the hauling of House Bill 1373 into dry dock for repairs before it sets out on its maiden voyage for final passage.

This old system is all out of joint it is true but I am satisfied that the mechanics who started out to repair it for me have made a good job. House Bill 1720 is a stream lined model of our old system, with a counterbalanced crankshaft and a down draft carburetor. It will now hit all the high spots and work economically. Get one and look it over. I am sure you will like it and while you consider all its good points please consider that it is not legislation for Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, or Scranton, but for the whole State of Pennsylvania. After all we farmers want to go along, too.

The Attorney General's Office is finding some difficulty in transplanting an Ohio or Indiana Plan of tax collection to the Constitutional soil of Pennsylvania. As a concluding analogy may I suggest that we continue to buy our citrus fruits in Florida and diligently apply ourselves to the perfection of the native York Imperial Apple.

STATEMENT BY MR. WELLIVER

Mr. WELLIVER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, forty years ago I remember some of my friends who were here at that time. One of them was Mr. Danbey from Skippbeck, Montgomery County. Another was a great friend of mine, seventy years old, Mr. Hawkins, from York County, a wonderful lawyer. I received a message that he passed away night before last. I thought he had been dead these forty years, because I knew nothing of late about him or his family.

One thing I want to say is that I have been very modest during this session for the reason that for the last year or so I have had six sets of teeth made for my lower jaw, and one minute they want to go to Heaven and the next minute go down my throat. That is he reason I have not had very much to say.

I want to say in this body I am always in my seat and, if I am not, I also want to say "When the roll is called up yonder I'll be there."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments of the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. LaRue?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the purpose of his motion to non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I understand the way this bill has been amended that it is inoperative.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman in a position to advise the House wherein it is inoperative?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, the definition of "cigarette."

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman be more specific in his explanation as to why it is inoperative because of the definition placed upon the word "cigarette," in view of the fact that on page three it appears that the word is rather clearly defined?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I may say that it is the opinion of the Attorney General's office that this bill is not in proper form.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman in a position to advise me why this amendment was not placed in the bill in the Senate?

Mr. LaRUE. Mr. Speaker, I can't tell why it was not done in the Senate.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that we ought to defeat this motion and vote upon the amendments of this bill. I see no reason for non-concurring and delaying final action upon this bill. Certainly any amendments that could have been offered or should have been offered, if of vital importance, would have been made. As a lawyer I have read this bill and I do not see where it is inoperative. We have no opinion from the Attorney General wherein he says it is inoperative. Insofar as I am concerned, irrespective of whether I would vote for the bill or for the amendments, I believe that the matter of the amendments ought to be voted upon promptly and not delayed. It seems to me that there is no proper reason that has been given to this House for any possible delay in non-concurrence in these amendments. The matter ought to be voted upon and the amendments either concurred in or non-concurred in, but the bill ought to be acted upon and not be permitted to go into conference with further delay.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on page nine of the bill amendments were inserted by the Senate which raised the commission for the selling of the stamps from two percent to fifteen percent and instead of the manufacturers distributing the stamps having the wholesaler do so. That is the amendment we do not concur in, raising the commission from two to fifteen percent.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that it is the position of the Democratic majority of this House that this bill as now amended is satisfactory with the one exception, to wit, on page nine, line 17, wherein the two percent has been changed to fifteen percent and that is not satisfactory?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, that is the main reason. There is one other objection.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks, to state that other objection?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, where the distribution of the stamps has been given to the wholesaler instead of to the manufacturer. Instead of placing the stamps on the products at the factory, the wholesaler places them on the products.

Mr. WITKIN. Then, Mr. Speaker, do I understand that with those two exceptions the bill is satisfactory in form to the Democratic majority of this House?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, there is a question on the definition of "cigarettes." There are some cigarettes sold which are as long as lead pencils, to be cut into three pieces. The question is whether it will be satisfactory to have a one cent stamp placed on ten of those cigarettes the same as on ten of the smaller size cigarettes. Those are the three objections.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr Speaker and members of the House, in view of the explanation made by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, I believe that the motion made by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. LaRue, ought to be adopted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to and the amendments were not concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" and desire to file my reason.

I believe that five cents a $100 on notes of individuals to banks is too high. Frequent renewals of notes which individuals are trying to liquidate causes a consequent heavy tax on this form of document.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BURKE (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 153.

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1935.

Whereas, The Public Service Commission was created by the General Assembly in 1913, for the purpose of safeguarding and protecting the interests of the public by giving to such Public Service Commission the power to regulate rates so that they would be just and reasonable; and

Whereas, The public has made demands from time to time that the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania reduce its rates to subscribers; and

Whereas, A number of years ago, the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania discharged tens of thousands of female telephone operators as a result of the company's introduction and use of mechanical dialing equipment; and

Whereas, The rates of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania to subscribers have during this period remained unchanged; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives would be pleased to have the Public Service Commission submit a report by June 1, 1935, setting forth whether or not any inquiry has been made by the Public Service Commission during the last seven years, and if such inquiry was made, to set forth the results of the same; and be it further

Resolved, That if no such inquiry has heretofore been made, then the Public Service Commission should ascertain the number of female telephone operators discharged by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania as a result of the introduction and use of automatic dialing equipment; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Public Service Commission further ascertain the number of female telephone operators that would be necessary if the automatic dialing equipment was withdrawn from use; and be it further

Resolved, That the Public Service Commission conduct a new inquiry as to the fairness and reasonableness of the present rates charged subscribers of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Public Utilities.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Members from Fourth Class Counties will meet Monday, May 20, at 4:00 P. M. in Room 324 to discuss a Fourth Class County salary reduction Bill.

BASE BALL

On Tuesday, May 21st, the game between the Democratic and Republican teams of the House will be played on the Island diamond. We are requesting that chairmen of committees will so arrange their programs as not to have meetings on the afternoon of this day. We understand that a public hearing on the "Sunday Movies" bill will be held at 2:30 on the day of the game. While we are fully aware that we are in the midst of the most important part of the session, yet we also believe that we will be just as far ahead by taking the afternoon off and taking part in a wholesome program that will make for a still better feeling between members of the House. The Press is going to give publicity to this game since the bnefits go to the interest of the Harrisburg Welfare Federation and we would appreciate a real good turn-out at this game. We will have a short program while the teams are warming up and the program and line-up of the tams are as follows:

PROGRAM WILL START AT 3 P. M.

1—Foot Race Between Simon, Clinton and Turner, Delaware
2—Hog Calling Contest Between Shephard, Phila. and Ruth, Berks
3—Rooster Crow Contest Between McCreary, Erie and Rinn, Lehigh
4—Prayer by Hoopes, Berks
5—Hoe-Down Dance by Witkins, Phila.
6—Speaker Sarig Throws out First Ball and Game Begins.

Hi Andrews, Cambria—Official Score Keeper and Advisor

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to suggest to the gentlemen arranging this baseball game that they left out one official that certainly should be in there. It seems to me that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, ought to be appointed betting commissioner.

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes that the suggestion of the gentleman from Delaware is a very good one.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, in vew of the very great interest that is being stirred up on the forthcoming race between the gentleman from Delaware and myself, I want to call attention to the fact that I was treated a little unfairly this morning by the Speaker of this House. As you know, both of us are in training for this race, and I submit to you that it was unfair for the Speaker to give my opponent from Delaware County training in his wind. I submit to you that he did not need that training.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 20, 1935, at 9:00 P. M.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:12 P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday, May 20, 1935, at 9:00 P. M. (E.S.T.)

Legislative Journal.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 20, 1935 No. 64

SENATE

MONDAY, May 20, 1935

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou, the God of all nations, and the God of our nation, we are proud of the record made by our forefathers. In the early days of our history they blazed the paths which we today follow. We have built upon the foundations they laid. All the wealth, glory and honor we are today enjoying, and of which we justly boast, are ours because of their frugality, bravery and hardy patriotism.

May we honor their memory and emulate their example. Save us from passive patriotism. Grant us the same sturdy manhood our forebears possessed. Many we, like them, be deaf to the persuasion of insincere men and sinister movements who are willing to sacrifice the interests of our country for the sake of self aggrandizement.

Grant that the record made here during these days of legislative activity may be such as to make those who shall follow after us proud, in their generations, to be called our descendants.

In closing our prayer tonight we ask that Thy blessing may rest upon the member of this Senate into whose family circle death has come. Comfort him and all those who mourn with him.

We ask it in the name of the Great Comforter. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. McCREESH asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Pytko, on account of the death of his father.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY TO HONORABLE WALTER PYTKO

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, Almighty God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to visit the home and family of our colleague, Senator Walter Pytko with sorrow by calling to eternity his respected and beloved father.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in session duly assembled, that the sympathy and condolence of the members of the Senate be extended to our colleague, Senator Walter Pytko, in his hour of sorrow and bereavement,

And Be It Further Resolved, That this resolution be entered upon the Journal of the Senate and a copy thereof be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to our friend and colleague, Senator Pytko.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 20, 1935.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene Monday evening, May 27, 1935, at 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time and that when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene Monday evening, May 27, 1935, at 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President and members of the Senate: As one of the many members of this Senate honestly and sincerely interested in relief for the home and farm owners of this great Commonwealth, as well as relief for the unemployed in this session of the General Assembly, I feel that I should express myself and call upon the members of this Senate to join in a plan which will be more than mere "lip service;" a plan that will be a part of the whole state tax program, a plan that of necessity will command the attention and support of the entire administration and members of the General Assembly.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties in their platforms of last year, very definitely and specifically pledged themselves to reduction of taxes on real estate.

The Administration's income tax bill, which has passed the House, provides that the revenue derived therefrom shall go to the school districts of the State with the mandate to those districts that the taxation on real estate, the millage rate, shall be reduced in the exact amount of the revenue supplied to them through this measure. Many members of the Senate, as I understand it, favor the bill, with alternative of a flat income tax, should the graduated one be declared unconstitutional.

Many authorities believe a graduated income tax will be declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court. I understand that the case will be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court before it is finally settled. It is therefore evident that the matter will not be finally disposed of for at least 2 or 3 years. This of course means that not for many months can any relief for school taxes be expected from this source. It is estimated that the graduated income tax would produce approximately $15,000,000 per year. This would not relieve the tax burden in any very substantial amount even if declared constitutional.

I think I am correct in saying that the majority of the members of the Senate, as well as of the House, are actually and truly interested and concerned as to the present state of affairs of our school system and even more than concerned as to the ability of the schools throughout the entire state to operate uniformly if the present high rates of taxation should remain on real estate. It is claimed, and I think rightfully so, by the Tax Justice League of Pennsylvania, which organization is actively on the job here in Harrisburg to secure what they choose to call Tax Justice, that real estate has been bled white, that the home and farm owners and owners of other forms of investment real estate cannot supply all the money needed to carry on the schools and local government any longer, and that unless something is done by the State at this 1935 Session to secure money from other sources of taxation than real estate, that there is a real threat facing thousands of school children, which would not be in the interest of the Commonwealth as a whole. Education is admittedly the sovereign duty of the State, it is clearly set forth in our Constitution and we must not permit a condition to develop that might mean disaster to our present public school system; yes might mean even worse than that if we neglect the education of the future citizenry of this State. It is our duty to provide sufficient funds to enable the State to maintain the standards that have been set up many years ago. As representatives of the people of this great Commonwealth it behooves us to recognize the need and distress of the home and farm owners who have been carrying 92% of the total load for local government and schools. I say that it is not fair that the citizens of this State who have chosen to put their savings or investments into homes and farms or other forms of real estate should continue to be taxed at from 35 to 40 mills on their assessed valuation. Real property represents but about one fourth of the total wealth of the State but carries 92% of the total tax load for schools and local government..... This is not fair.....it is unfair.....it must be changed.....and I say that it should be changed here and now in this 1935 session of this General Assembly. We have a duty to perform, we have a promise and a pledge to keep, if you please, and I sincerely hope that the members of this body will keep that campaign promise before we adjourn. The question arises in my mind as to how we can face our constituents back home, the real property owners, the taxpayers, unless we do rectify and change the present bad system of taxation that is slowly but surely confiscating our homes.

In the House of Representatives, as you all know, a Bi-Partisan committee of 13 Republicans and 13 Democrats, headed by Representative Frank J. Atkins of my county, is actively at work on a program for immediate relief for the home and farm owning taxpayers. There has already been introduced in the Senate, an amendment to Section 1210 of the School Code, Senate Bill No. 1305, making a provision for the payment of salaries of all elementary school teachers, and also an appropriation bill providing for the necessary additional amount to pay these salaries. These Senate bills should be reported out of committees, passed by the Senate and sent to the House. In this manner we can go on record with a definite tangible program to give the absolutely essential relief to property owners.

Mr. President, the present status of the home and farm owners of this state is serious, it demands just as careful consideration and treatment as the emergency relief question for, in my opinion, if we neglect to do our duty to this class of citizenry and neglect to do it at this session, the plight of our schools yes the plight of our entire state will command and demand our consideration and attention in the very near future, for we cannot continue longer to deny relief to those who constitute the very backbone of our state. Although we cannot give them as much as we should, we must demonstrate our sincerity, our honesty, our interest in their problems here and now by at least doubling the appropriations for the public school system for the ensuing biennium. It can be done, and, in closing, permit me to reiterate, it must be done.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO RELIEF PROGRAM FOR REAL PROPERTY OWNERS

Mr. GRAFF offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The immediate problem of providing sufficient revenue to care for the unfortunate citizens of this Commonwealth, who through no fault of their own are unable to provide food, clothing and shelter for themselves and their loved ones, has been met and solved, and

Whereas, Both the Republican and Democratic parties' platforms, as well as the majority of the successful candidates for State offices and for the General Assembly, were committed to provide not only emergency relief for the unemployed, but also committed to the enactment of laws to give the home and farm owners relief in the 1935 session of the General Assembly, and

Whereas, Since the opening of the present session leaders of both parties as well as Spokesmen for the Administration have reiterated their desire to bring relief to this class of citizens who chose to own their homes and farms, through the adoption of a plan for equalization of taxation, both in and out of the chambers of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and

Whereas, No laws have yet been enacted providing relief for the taxpayer, the distressed home and farm owners aforesaid, while some bills have already been passed that will place additional tax burdens on the owners of real property, therefore

Be It Resolved, That the Senate do not set a date for adjournment until a relief program for the real property owners, the distressed taxpayers, be agreed upon and laws enacted to provide substantially more State funds for School Subsidies than is at present set up in the budget, with a mandate to the school districts that taxes on real estate be reduced in exact proportion to the amount appropriated in this manner, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the House of Representatives as an expression of the desire of the Senate to cooperate through a Senate Bi-Partisan Committee with the similar committee in the House headed by Representatives Atkins and Reising.

The PRESIDENT. Inasmuch as this resolution deals with the question of final adjournment, and that question is handled by the Committee on Rules, the resolution is referred to that committee.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I want to raise my voice in support of this resolution. I want to state that according to my belief no one in this State has more emphatically emphasized the needs of the relief of the taxpayers than our friend, Attorney General Charles Margiotti. I do not know of any better class of citizens in our State than the man who by thrift and industry attempts to own his own home. Those are the people that I think we should give our consideration to. For myself, I have always been taught and told that work is honorable. I really believe that we in the Senate here, and in our legislative halls, have been giving too much consideration to those who think that the State owes them a livelihood. I have pledged myself, above everything else, to see that those who are destitute, and unable to earn a livelihood, whether by physical incapacity or lack of employment—that man, I think, should be given every consideration; but I think that we should have the courage and the backbone to state that the man who is unwilling to work when work is offered to him—that he should look elsewhere than to this Senate for assistance.

Mr. President, the people that we have been neglecting are the people who by thrift and industry have been endeavoring to accumulate something—to own property and to have a home; and I am heartily in favor of this resolution, and I know that my Democratic brethren are also likewise in favor of the same.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

Mr. PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to say that I second what has been said by the last two speakers in regard to the necessity that we take care of the suffering real estate owner of Pennsylvania. Our system of real estate taxation has been a hold-over from an entirely different period, and while we talk about socialistic ideas and capital levy, I want to say, just as my distinguished colleague, the Senator from the Chestnut Hill district, Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, said the other day in regard to the levy on capital stock—that, in figuring our real estate assessments we actually levy what we call a capital levy on the land values of Pennsylvania, and so long as we do that we cannot hope to have a satisfactory system to cope with modern needs for revenue and modern demands for justice for the real estate owner.

I hope that this committee that has been suggested will take into consideration all these things, along with the problem of additional school appropriations from the State, for the relief of taxation on real estate.

INVITATION TO ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICE AT GETTYSBURG

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, on behalf of the citizens of Gettysburg, I wish to extend an invitation to the members of the Senate, and indeed to all members of the General Assembly, to attend the Memorial exercises at Gettysburg on May 30. The Governor will deliver the Memorial address at 2:30 P. M. Any of the members who desire to attend will receive tickets for reserved seats if they will advise me of their intention to be present.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will take notice.

RESOLUTION CALLING UPON PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR FEDERATION TO OPPOSE RECENT INCREASE IN PRICE ON GASOLINE

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, the producers and distributors of gasoline in the State of Pennsylvania have during the past week raised the price of gasoline throughout the State of Pennsylvania one cent per gallon, and

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation was active in opposing any increase in gasoline tax in the Commonwealth, alleging that the same would be an unwarranted burden upon the motor public of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, by the Senate of Pennsylvania in session duly assembled, that the Pennsylvania Motor Federation be called upon to oppose with the same energy and vigor, the recent increase in the price of gasoline as was demonstrated by it in its opposition to the increase in the tax upon gasoline, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the office of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation by the Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolution be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The Chair hears objection. The Resolution will be referred to the Committee on State Government.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Geovernor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 20, 1935.

Ti the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

If it meets with the approval of the Senate, I should like to address the Members this evening at ten o'clock.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT THE GOVERNOR TO THE SENATE CHAMBER

Mr. GRAFF offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 20, 1935.

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the Senate be appointed to escort His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, to the Hall of the Senate to address the members of the Senate at 10 P. M., May 20, 1935.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the President Pro Tempore the Chair announces as said committee the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis and the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Honorable George H. Earle.

The PRESIDENT. It is my privilege and pleasure at this time to present His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, Honorable George H. Earle.

ADDRESS BY THE GOVERNOR

The GOVERNOR. Gentlemen of the Senate. You have agreed upon a revenue program designed to meet the relief needs of this Commonwealth for the next year.

We must now proceed to consider the broad problems of social security which form the background of the relief picture.

We will gain nothing, and we will fail in our duty, if we levy taxes for relief and make no effort to wipe out the economic evils which have made relief necessary.

As a first step in this direction, my Administration has prepared and presented a series of elementary social measures. Most of these have been passed by the House of Representatives, but only one has been reported out on the floor of the Senate. Some have been in your committees for as long as three months.

I urge most strongly that this vital legislative program be given your immediate attention, and that you do not consider adjournment of this Session until social security legislation is written upon the statute books of Pennsylvania.

The longer we delay, the more drastic such legislation must be. If we permit the cancer of economic unrest to spread, nothing but the most desperate expedients will save our institutions and our democratic form of government in the future.

Some of the Administration's labor bills are controversial.

Employers believe some are financially burdensome to industry, but that consideration can have no bearing on those bills which impose little or no financial obligations, in this category are the following:

Harmuth Bill abolishing company-paid deputy sheriffs.

Coolahan Bill outlawing industrial police.

Dent Bill regulating injunctions in labor disputes.

Reising Child Labor Bill.

Eberharter-Hoopes wage collection bill.

Barber industrial home work bill.

Schwab Workmen's Compensation Bill for Work Relief employes.

These bills impose no hardships upon anyone but the sweat shop operator, the industrial tyrant, and the fly-by-night employer. These reforms are badly needed by both labor and industry. Not a single valid objection has been raised to any one of them.

All of them have been in your committee long enough for ample consideration. I therefore urgently request that they be reported out and placed in position for final enactment by next week at the latest.

The most controversial Administration measures before your honorable body are the Weiss, Kobelak and Zappala workmen's compensation bills, the Haluska Woman's Hour Bill, and the Brancato Minimum Wage Bill.

An adequate workmen's compensation law is the first step in any program of minimum social security. Compensation for injury is a cost of production, a legitimate charge upon industry. If the employer evades this responsibility he places the cost upon the taxpayer, since the injured workman must then depend upon public charity for his subsistence and medical attention.

The Administration compensation program increases the minimum weekly payments to injured workers from $7 to $12, and the maximum from $15 to $25. It removes the present 500 week limitation and provides for payment throughout the period of disability. It eliminates abuses which have resulted from questionable practices of some employers and insurance companies. It protects claimants against the handicaps of legal procedure.

I can find no convincing objection to these reforms in the Workmen's Compensation Law. I do not believe any legislator conscientiously could deny a maximum of $15 to $25 a week to a totally disabled worker, or refuse him proper medical care during his period of disability.

There is no reasonable person who can seriously contend that such provisions would drive industries out of the State.

Remember that Pennsylvania ranks thirty-third among the States in workmen's compensation legislation.

Twenty-eight States have more liberal total disability benefits than our present $6500 maximum.

Thirty-six States have larger weekly benefits for total disability.

Thirty-nine States provide more adequate compensation for widows.

Thirty-three States have a less burdensome waiting period penalty than ours.

Forty-three States have more adequate medical benefits. Under the present law hospital care is provided for thirty days only, and the cost of medical attention is limited to $100. Thousands of dollars worth of free services must be given to injured workers by State-owned and State-aided hospitals, since they must take up the burden after the employer's thirty-day period of medical repsonsibility ends.

With employers in other States operating under much more drastic compensation laws than we have in Pennsylvania, it is impossible to believe that industries would be driven out of this State, or that they would suffer in interstate competition, through strengthening of our compensation structure.

The social and economic costs of inadequate compensation cannot be calculated. They far surpass any costs that will be imposed upon industry by enactment of these bills.

My Administration is unalterably committed to the principle of fair compensation for the victims of industry, and I sincerely hope that you will give your unqaulified support to that principle by approving this necessary legislation without delay.

You will note that the proposed workmen's compensation legislation includes two general administrative features which are also of vital importance to the people of this Commonwealth. One of these assesses the cost of workmen's compensation administration directly on employers and insurance companies. This is in line with the general principle that industry, rather than the general taxpayer should pay for all of the cost incident to industrial accidents. Seven states, including New York, have had such a feature in operation for a number of years and at least three States have passed such legislation this year.

The other administrative change which I wish to call to your attention is the provision requiring self-insured employers to post security under collateral trust agreement to the extent of their liability for compensation payments. Self-insured employers are responsible for approximately 50% of the compensation payments every year but under our law at the present time they are subject to practically no regulation or supervision. The proposed change attempts to remedy this situation. It is particularly important in view of the uncertainty of the priority of compensation claims under our amended Federal Bankruptcy Act.

Another Administration labor bill, the Haluska measure regulating the hours of labor for women in industry, has been reported out of committee and is now before you.

This bill has been amended by your committee to increase weekly working hours from 40 to 48, and includes overtime provisions which further increase the maximum to 54 hours.

Perhaps with the best of intentions, your committee has added hour exemptions which mean a wide-open bill. It will be absolutely impossible for an inspector to check the amount of overtime already used by each worker found working beyond the 48-hour basic week.

In addition, I see no reason why any woman should be required to work 54 hours a week while more than 150,000 women in this State are seeking jobs.

It should be remembered that twenty-six other States now provide a shorter working day for women than Pennsylvania. It should be remembered also that a bill riddled with overtime and unenforceable provisions, as this bill is at present, is worse than no bill at all.

I urge most strongly that the amendments be removed and the bill passed in its original form.

One of your committees has reported out a minimum wage bill for women and children. This is not the minimum wage bill that was passed by the House, but worse than a parody on it.

Although it resembles the Brancato Bill in not setting a fixed minimum wage, it differs substantially in that it assigns the task of establishing wage rates to the County Courts of Common Pleas, instead of the Department of Labor and Industry.

This would not only place the problem before judicial bodies, inexperienced in handling wage and labor problems, but also would throw the entire question upon the sixty-seven counties, with resulting confusion and difference of standards. I doubt that any county court would ever reach the point of finally issuing a wage order.

It would be ruinous to place the difficult task of establishing fair minimum wage rates anywhere but in the most qualified hands. Such action would discredit the entire principle of minimum wages.

The Brancato Bill is the standard draft for minimum wage legislation, and has been enacted by a number of other States, including Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Connecticut. There is absolutely no precedent, in the entire history of minimum wage laws in this country, for any measure such as the one your committee has reported out.

I will oppose any so-called minimum wage bill which is unsound, and which does not place administration of the Act in the Department of Labor and Industry, where it properly belongs.

Enactment of minimum wage legislation, such as practically all of our neighboring States now have, is vital if we are to prevent Pennsylvania from becoming a dumping ground for sweated industry.

I need not remind you that both political parties represented in this chamber are pledged, specifically and without qualification, to provide adequate social and labor legislation.

The Democratic platform contains eight planks committing the party to specific social and labor measures. I quote:

"Second: Abolition of child labor.
"Third: Social justice through the regulation of the hours of labor, especially for women.
"Fourth: A minimum wage, fair to both industry and labor.
"Fifth: Elimination of industrial police and privately paid deputy sheriffs.
"Sixth: Absolute right of collective bargaining and unionization of labor.
"Seventh: A stronger and more comprehensive workmen's compensation law.
"Eighth: Outlawing of sweat shops.
"Fifteenth: Strengthening of the anti-injunction law to conform with Federal Statutes."

Likewise does the Republican platform contain specific pledges for a square deal for labor; outlawing of sweat shops, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining, protection of workers in industry, abolition of industrial police and privately paid deputy sheriffs, more liberal compensation laws and minimum wage laws. All these are covered in the Republican platform.

With such assurances and promises of a square deal for Pennsylvania's wage-earners from the Republican as well as the Democratic Party, I feel confident that the labor bills which have been submitted to you for enactment into law will receive your sympathetic support.

The problem of unemployment relief has shown us how necessary such legislation is, for the protection of both labor and industry in this Commonwealth.

Full responsibility for that legislation now rests with the Senate. The House of Representatives has done its duty. Pennsylvania expects you to do yours.

Thank you, gentlement of the Senate for your attention.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the Senate, I desire to express its thanks and appreciation to His Excellency, the Governor, for his fine talk.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there seems to have been some misunderstanding concerning my attitude and expressions on the tax program and social legislation, and in fairness to my Fellow Members as well as in justice to myself, I feel that this brief explanation should be made.

When the compromise was effected with the Governor on the new taxes that are to be imposed for unemployment relief, it was evident that there would be a tremendous increase in the tax burden on the business and industry of this Commonwealth. It was with that in mind that I made the suggestion—speaking only for myself, as an individual Senator—that the question of proposed social legislation, which would further and terrifically burden the industries of Pennsylvania, be held in abeyance for the present

I was not speaking for the Republican caucus; I was not speaking for any other Republican or Democrat member of the Senate. I was speaking solely for myself, expressing an opinion or judgment arrived at from my own experiences as a businessman, and having in mind the profound significance of those facts and figures which were laid before this body on April 23rd by my colleague Honorable George L. Reed, of Dauphin County.

You will recall that he used the figures of the United States Department of Labor to show that as between January, 1933, and January, 1935, Industry had increased its number of employees by 31%; had increased per capita weekly earnings of those wage-earners by 24%; and in so doing had increased Industry's own payrolls by 62%. He set forth further that the Industries of this State are now employing 75% of the number employed in the boom year of 1929, and that they are paying to those workers wages which have a purchasing power equal to the purchasing power of the wage-earners during 1929.

Senator Reed showed further, by the official figures of the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue, that the operating deficit of Pennsylvania's corporations has been running 3½ times their net income, not counting this recent increase in State taxes, and of course not including the tremendous costs that would be imposed by these proposed social bills.

Gentlemen of the Senate, I believe that in a period such as this, in which Industry, sustaining continued heavy losses, has done so much toward recovery through re-employment, increased wages, and increased payroll, there is a heavy and a solemn obligation resting upon us to consider these proposals in the light of hard, cold and irrefutable facts, and not from the impulse of emotions or what may seem to be temporary political expediency. For, what may seem, upon the surface, to be for the benefit of the wage-earner in Pennsylvania, easily may turn out to be to his lasting disadvantage and misfortune—as we know has been the case in other industrial States which have proceeded, upon superficial consideration, to enact unwise and destructive labor and other economic legislation.

I would not have anyone misunderstand that statement or my attitude on the broad principles involved in these social proposals. I feel, and always have felt, that each particular branch of Industry should properly take care of those employees injured in the course of their employment. During the period that I have been a member of this body, I have repeatedly voted for labor and so-called social bills when the funds have been available to carry out the provisions of the Bill. The Act increasing the original rates of Workmen's Compensation, which was put through in 1927, was known as the Sordoni Bill and was sponsored by me in the Senate.

But it seems to me that one of the all-important obligations resting upon us at this time is to see to it that we do not tax our industries to the point where they can no longer continue operations in Pennsylvania, which would throw thousands of our present wage-earners out of employment.

Mr. President, we all know that wealth is that which is produced, and that in Pennsylvania it comes from three sources—from agriculture, from mining, and from manufacture.

The farmers of this State are right now having a terrible battle to exist, because of unwise and uneconomical legislation enacted in Washington. This legislation has authorized and it pays for the actual destruction of crops, cattle, hogs, cotton, etc. A Processing Tax is put upon our own farmers in order to pay the farmers of the West and South for this destruction. We cannot think of taxing the farmers of Pennsylvania any more than they are now taxed.

The necessity of making proper provision for unemployment relief has been paramount to all else, and to meet that necessity we have turned again to over-burdened Industry. It is my conviction that we must proceed with exceeding care that we do not increase those burdens to the point where Industry cannot carry them, by enacting social legislation which would carry with it a very heavy additional tax.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, my heart goes out to the man out of employment. I know what it means to be unemployed. I know what it means to travel in a "side-door pullman," and to sleep in a park, or to ride all night on a subway train with a last remaining nickel because it was too cold to sleep in the park. I am familiar with the 10c and the 25c "flop houses" of the Bowery, where you sleep in a bunk surrounded by wire netting so that your neighbor cannot steal you clothes while you sleep. I have been through all of those things, and I know from bitter experience.

If I were out of work and without funds, unable to provide my wife and family with the necessities of life, I suppose I would be as radical as any of the radicals in our State. I would demand the right to work, or to have food provided for my dependents.

But with the productive enterprises of Pennsylvania bearing this unusual and tremendous burden of unemployment relief, I do feel that those of our people who are employed should be willing to make their contribution to those who are not employed, to the extent of not now demanding from Industry an additional and destructive tax for social legislation, merely to further the employed man's security at the expense of the unemployed.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, let us not tax the Industry of this Commonwealth to the extent of creating more unemployment.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CLARK from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 891, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the payment of unpaid expenses and bills incurred by the Senate Committee created to investigate the Public Service Commission.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COYNE, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

MEMBER OF THE SANITARY WATER BOARD

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 8, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following appointment to compute from the date of confirmation:

Philip G. Platt, of Wallingford, Delaware County, as a member of the Sanitary Water Board, vice W. C. McCormick, resigned, until the third Tuesday of January, 1939, or until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nomination.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1046 (House Bill No. 1885), entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred twenty-six of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by exempting from the provisions thereof persons fishing in the waters of the Delaware River lying between New York and Pennsylvania holding a fishing license issued by the State of New York and persons fishing in the waters of the Pymatuning Lake holding a fishing license issued by the State of Ohio go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL FOR CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of House Amendments to Senate Bill No. 22, entitled:

An Act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the third class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries; prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries, and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors; and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, bodies of electors, county commissioners, registrars, inspectors of registration, and other appointees of county commissioners, election officers, municipal officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, and boards of school directors; and imposing penalties.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows: Amend section 34 page 38 line 2 by striking out after the syllable "tion" the following: "thereafter the registration commission shall cause all of the"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "of the registration of any such elector for failure".

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 22.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 575 (House Bill No. 1220), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (e) of section five of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 1045) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a Bureau of Rehabilitation in the Department of Labor and Industry and conferring upon the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the power to supervise and direct the rendering of certain physically handicapped persons fit to engage in remunerative occupations providing for the appointment of a chief of the bureau subordinate officers and employes and furnishing suitable accommodations and making an appropriation" by providing for furnishing artificial limbs to children over ten years of age be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, twenty-three Senators voted in the affirmative, and twenty-three in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. There being a tie vote on the motion, the President votes "no."

There being twenty-three votes in favor of the motion and twenty-four votes against it, the motion is not agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, there seems to be some confusion about this bill. Personally, I think it is a very good bill; but if there is any doubt in the minds of any of the Senators here about it, I think it might be cleared up by tomorrow.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 575 (House Bill No. 1220), on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 706, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article five of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section twenty-eight providing for one general court of common pleas

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply wish to state to the Senate that this bill was drafted by an ex-Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, and it is aimed at the correcting of the evil of the so-called "tramp judges"—doing away with that expense and also doing away with the expense of creating an additional Common Pleas Court. If anybody wishes to change his mind, he may change it the next time.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with great pleasure.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if, under this constitutional amendment, it would not permit the majority of the Court of Common Pleas of Pennsylvania to pass court rules for Erie County and Wayne County?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not so understand it. There is no danger of that kind, as I understand it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask, further, whether it would interfere with the salaries of the Courts of Common Pleas, by paying the same salaries to the judges of Center County as they pay in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, no change in salary; change in tenure of office.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Aron,	Clark,	McClure,	Prince,
Batchelor,	Coyne,	Norton,	Sordoni,
Baumer,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Woodward,
Bennett,	Howell,	Pierson,	Ziesenheim,

Harris,	McGinnis,	Rodgers,	(Westmoreland)
Harvey,	Miller,	Rupp,	Trainer,

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

Senate Bill No. 616, Printer's No. 382, entitled, "An Act providing for the abatement under certain circumstances of tax penalties and interest on certain city taxes in cities of the first class and on certain school taxes in school districts of the first class."

GEORGE H. EARLE.

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 712.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvonia,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 16, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor Senate Bill No. 712, Printer's No. 360, for further consideration.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

The PRESIDENT. The bill will lie on the table.

HOUSE MESSAGES

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 815 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 815, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred seven and one thousand four hundred and two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-seven), entitled "Administrative Code of 1929," requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General, and establishing a board for the determination and payment of minor damages caused by the National Guard.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be voted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and particularly referred to on their calendars, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twise read, as follows: Amend title page 1 line 1 by striking out after the word "seven" the following: "and one thousand four hundred and two"; also title page 2 line 11 by striking out after the word "General" the following: "and establishing a board for the determination and payment of minor damages caused by the National Guard"; also by omitting all of section 2 on pages 4 and 5; also page 5 line 3 by striking out the numeral "3" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "2".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Aron,	Harris,	Miller,	Rupp,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 817 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 817, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 662), entitled "An act relating to retirement from the Pennsylvania National Guard," by including service in United States Navy or Marine Corps in preferred classifications.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill will lie on the table and noted on the Calendar.

RESOLUTION URGING JUNIOR SENATORS FROM PENNSYLVANIA TO VOTE FOR ADJUSTED COMPENSATION ACT

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

May 20, 1935.

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by concurrent resolution, adopted by the House of Representatives on February 20th, and agreed to by the Senate on March 5th, petitioned the Congress of the United States to enact legislation providing for the immediate cash payment of adjusted compensation to veterans; and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States did, by a substantial vote, pass such legislation; and

Whereas, The General Assembly of this Commonwealth by concurrent resolution, adopted by the House of Representatives on May 14th and agreed to by the Senate on the same date respectfully petitioned His Excellency, the President of the United States to approve such measure; and

Whereas, It is authoritatively reported that the President will return the bill without approval and thereby again make it a matter for congressional action; and

Whereas, While the senior Senator from Pennsylvania has consistently supported measures of this nature, the junior Senator from Pennsylvania the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey has as persistently opposed them; and

Whereas, United action by the Senators from the Commonwealth will in all probability result in the passage of the present adjusted compensation bill, and

Whereas, The Members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania believe their two prior actions as well as their present one correctly represent the desires and beliefs of an overwhelming number of the citizens of this Commonwealth, now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania petition the junior Senator from the Commonwealth, the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey, to carry out the wishes of the electors of Pennsylvania and vote to pass the adjusted compensation bill now before the President, nothwithstanding unfavorable action thereon by the President; and be it further

Resolved, That upon agreement by the Senate to this resolution, the Chief Clerk of the Senate shall forthwith send to the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey a telegram, the subject matter of which shall be in manner and form as follows:

"The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has this day by resolution petitioned you to vote favorably on the veterans' adjusted compensation bill notwithstanding unfavorable action thereon by the President," and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate, and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey, Junior Senator from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I feel that the reading of that resolution, just as we may hear it here, may not give sufficient understanding of the resolution. I herefore ask that the motion be voted down, and that the resolution take its proper order, so that we may understand it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED (Dauphin) and Mr. GRAFF and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Aron,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Reed,

L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation; and providing for refunds," providing a different method for serving a copy of information and notice on persons charged with violating the summary provisions of the act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 815, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two hundred seven and one thousand four hundred and two of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "Administrative Code of 1929," requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General, and establishing a board for the determination and payment of minor damages caused by the National Guard.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:58 P. M. until Tuesday, May 21, 1935, at 12 o'clock noon.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, MAY 20, 1935.

The House met at 9.00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Dr. J. J. Patterson of the Baptist Denomination of Lemoyne, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we stand before Thee tonight in acknowledgement of Thy Infinite greatness and of our dependence upon Thee. We come thanking Thee for Thou art the God of mercy and justice and wisdom. We thank Thee for the way in which Thou hast led us as a nation, for the blessings that Thou has poured upon us. We pray tonight for our President, for his Cabinet and all associated with him. We ask that Thy special blessing rest upon this great Commonwealth of ours that we love, this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania where our homes are, that mean so much to us. We thank Thee for Thy blessings of days gone by. We ask Thy blessing tonight upon our Governor, upon the heads of the various departments, and we ask that Thy guidance and Thy grace may come upon this House of Representatives, these men and women, chosen by the will of the people of this Commonwealth to help them in the affairs of such infinite importance in these days that are so disgustful and perplexing. We pray that Thy special blessing may rest upon them. Wilt thou bless the Speaker and wilt Thou bless the men and women, members of this House. Grant that the wisdom and the grace and the spirit of cooperation and the desire to honor God and serve our fellowmen may be foremost in the hearts of all. Save us from selfishness. Help us, our Father, to serve and to consider our service as the greatest honor that Thou canst bestow upon us. Help them, Father, that whatever our responsibility may be, that we take it as a trust from Thee, and for Thy name and unto Thy guidance, to do that which Thou wouldst for us to do. So, may the interest of this great Commonwealth be furthered in this Session of this House of Representatives. Grant Thy presence here, for Thy name and sake, Amen.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL NO. 88:

An Act providing for the organization under certain conditions of two colored battalions of infantry and making an appropriation therefor

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has concurred.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CARSON from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended House Bill No. 2779, Senate Bill No. 547, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 392), entitled "An act providing that highways, or sections thereof, abandoned as State highway routes, shall revert for maintenance to the party or parties responsible for the maintenance of said highways prior to their coming under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways," providing a procedure for the vacation of such abandoned State highways without the necessity of a view.

Mr. ALEXANDER from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2807, Senate Bill No. 804, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six hundred and fourteen of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duies upon the Department of Revenue, and the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," requiring the payment of fine and costs imposed before the restoration of operating privilege in certain cases.

Mr. JONES from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2397, entitled:

An Act to protect the public health; defining and providing for the licensing of confectionery factories and wholesale confectioners' warehouses, and regulating the inspection, maintenance, and operation of confectionery factories and premises and wholesale confectioners' warehouses and premises; defining and regulating the manufacture, sale, and offering for sale of confectionery products; conferring powers on the Department of Agriculture; and providing penalties.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Jones asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. TERRY for Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Hoopes asked and obtained leave of absence for Mrs. WILSON for the week on account of illness.

ADJUSTED COMPENSATION BILL

Mr. WICKERSHAM offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by concurrent resolution, adopted by the House of Representatives on February 20th, and agreed to by the Senate on March 5th, petitioned the Congress of the United States to enact legislation providing for the immediate cash payment of adjusted compensation to veterans; and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States did, by a substantial vote, pass such legislation; and

Whereas, The General Assembly of this Commonwealth by concurrent resolution, adopted by the House of Representatives on May 14th and agreed to by the Senate on the same date respectfully petitioned his Excellency the President of the United States to approve such measure; and

Whereas, It is authoritatively reported that the President will return the bill without approval and thereby again make it a matter for congressional action; and

Whereas, While the senior Senator from Pennsylvania has consistently supported measures of this nature, the junior Senator from Pennsylvania the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey has as persistently opposed them; and

Whereas, United action by the Senators from the Commonwealth will in all probability in the passage of the present adjusted compensation bill, and

Whereas, The Members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania believe their two prior actions as well as their present one correctly represent the desires and beliefs of an overwhelming number of the citizens of this Commonwealth, now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania petition the junior Senator from the Commonwealth the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey to carry out the wishes of the electors of Pennsylvania and vote to pass the adjusted compensation bill now before the President, notwithstanding unfavorable action thereon by the President; and be it further

Resolved, That upon agreement by the Senate to this resolution, the chief clerk of the Senate shall forthwith send to the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey a telegram, the subject matter of which shall be in manner and form as follows:

> "The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has this day by resolution petitioned you to vote favorably on the veterans adjusted compensation bill notwithstanding unfavorable action thereon by the President."

and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested by the Chief Clerk of the Senate, and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Hon. Joseph F. Guffey, junior Senator from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House give it unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections and consent is not granted.

RULE SUSPENDED

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering the resolution at this time.

On the question

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of the House to vote against this motion. The House well remembers the predicament it found itself in by passing an illy considered resolution a few weeks ago without sending it to committee to be considered and printed, so that the members will know what this resolution is all about. I ask the members to vote against this motion.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, the reason that I ask that the resolution be considered tonight is because on Wednesday the President will veto the bonus, and the Congress will immediately pass upon the veto. It is therefore absolutely essential that we act immediately. If this resolution is sent to committee, printed, and reported out, our action, whatever it may be, will be too late. This House has twice gone on record as being in favor of the payment of the bonus. Those who are in favor of such payment must leave no steps unturned to see that our Senators do everything possible to enact the will of the people of Pennsylvania. It is imperative that we vote on this tonight and I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of the suspension of the rule.

The resolution calls upon our Senators who have opposed the payment of the bonus to override the President's veto. There is no question about its being an illy considered resolution. We have twice voted in favor of such a resolution. This is our last chance to express our sentiments on that question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when the House several days ago was memorializing Congress, I called the attention of the majority members to the fact that they were at variance with the position of the junior Senator of this State. The motion made by the gentleman from Dauphin County is a logical sequence of the first illy advised step. This House lightly memorializes Congress on any and every subject without giving thought to the matter at hand. The House having memorialized Congress regarding the Patman bill, can now logically and properly proceed to ask the junior Senator from this State to reconsider his action and side with the position taken by this House. The predicament in which the majority members find themselves is simply the result of the illy advised policy of presuming to advise the National Congress, in the face of the fact that we so lamentedly failed to deal adequately with so many domestic problems.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the reason given by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, as to why this resolution should not be considered at this time is a most fallacious one. The gentlemen from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, has clearly enunciated what is contained in the resolution. The gentlemen from Berks says that we must have time to consider it so that it can be printed, so that we would know what we are voting upon. There isn't a man or lady in this House who doesn't know just what this resolution does. It requires no study. The statement made by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, is merely for the purpose, although not perhaps so intended, to delay action upon this resolution, so that it will never be voted upon, because if we do not act upon it tonight it will be too late, and we won't get a chance to vote upon it. I say to the membership of this House that we ought not to consider matters ill advisedly, that we ought not to consider them hurriedly, but where we have a simple a, b, c proposition that is presented before us for a vote, we ought not to tell the members of this House that we need time to study something that everyone including the gentleman that made the remark, knows requires no study. The sole purpose of this motion is that you may go on record for or against. You have a perfect right to vote against this resolution, and you have a perfect right to determine that in your own mind you do not want to tell the Senator from Pennsylvania as to how to vote. This is not the question. The question is how shall you vote, and shall you express your opinion, or shall you be so cowardly that you do not want to go on record one way or the other. I say to the membership of this House that what we are voting upon tonight is merely whether you are going to vote upon the resolution. A vote against the motion to suspend the rule is a vote in my humble judgment to the effect that you are afraid to go on record one way or the other on this resolution. Therefore, I ask that the members of this House should at least have the courage to vote. When the question of the resolution itself comes before you you can determine whether or not you are going to send this resolution to the Senator requesting him to vote one way or the other. But at least let us have the vote and let not the Legislature of Pennsylvania be accused of ducking the bonus vote tonight. I ask you to vote on the suspension of the rule so that you may be recorded upon the resolution itself.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last week we had a resolution to ask Congress to vote for the Patman bonus bill. That resolution was sent to committee, was reported out the next morning and was acted upon. We are doing nothing more than upholding the rule that was established in the early part of the session that all unprivileged resolutions go to committee and be reported out. A vote on this motion is not a vote against the resolution. It is simply to uphold the rule.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to take one second to say that the argument just advanced by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, is a ridiculous one, for the simple reason that we have time and time again upon matters that were not privileged resolutions given unanimous consent to have them considered. For him to say that we are following the normal course may be true, except that the exceptions to the normal course have been so many that we are not upsetting any precedent when we vote to suspend the rule to consider the resolution, that is non-privileged, immediately.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the question?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Witkin and were as follows

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE FAIRMOUNT PARK COMMISSION

Mr. OMINSKY offered the following resolution which was read by the Clerk for the information of the House:

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, the Fairmount Park Commission of the City of Philadelphia has grown in scope and control in supervising a tract of land which was developed from a nucleus of five acres acquired in the year 1812, to the proportion wherein it now has the control and supervision of over 6500 acres of park and park acres, as well as the many buildings and improvements thereon, and

Whereas, the said Commission may in its discretion dispose, distribute, or revise the aforesaid acres of land and all that is upon it, and

Whereas, the said Commission receives from the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia, and other public sources a large sum of money to disburse as it deems proper in the running of its affairs, and further

Whereas, it is alleged that the said Commission is czaristic in its attitude and considers itself a law unto itself, and

Whereas, this attitude was recently demonstrated when the aforesaid Park Commission "pickled" House Resolution Serial No. 191, Legislative Journal, Page 2817, which Resolution was unanimously adopted by this House on the 29th day of April and transmitted to the Park Commission by the Chief Clerk on the 30th day of April, said Resolution having advised the Park Commission that this House was in favor of placing the Park Guards who are under the Commission's supervision, on an equal basis with the Policemen and Firemen with regards to rest periods and vacations, and

Whereas, it is desirable that legislation be enacted properly to provide for the supervision, auditing, and control of the said Board, so that the said Commission may heed the voice of the people, and not the voice of a select few, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of Five members of the House of Representatives, whose duty it shall be to make an investigation of the books, records, management, and operation of the Park Board, also known as the Fairmount Park Commission of the City of Philadelphia, to the extent that may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Resolution, and for the information of the House of Representatives, and

Resolved, that the Committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives as early as possible, either at this session, if feasible, or at the next Special session of general session of the House of Representatives, and be it further

Resolved, that the said Committee through its Chairman or through a majority of its members, shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters which are properly being acquired into by the Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of the subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Moreover, each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said Committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

GAS TAX PROTESTS

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH offered the following resolution which was read by the Clerk for the information of the House:

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, acting under violent protest the House of Representatives passed a measure increasing the tax on gasoline two cents, and

Whereas, such violent protest was stimulated by refiners and distributors on the pretense that the traffic would bear no such increase, that bootlegging would increase, that thousands of men would be deprived of work because of the decreased consumption of gasoline and because the unemployed and demoralized worker would no longer be able to use his car for transportation, and

Whereas, the $50,000,000 deficit of the Pinchot Administration has so depleted the fiscal resources of the state as to require through further dilatory sidestepping the complete exhaustion of the State treasury with insufficient funds to meet the fiscal obligations of the State to schools and hospitals, and

Whereas, the General Assembly has repeatedly borrowed from special funds to meet the exigencies of relief demands in lieu of regular and specific revenue to meet these relief obligations until work on highways for which gasoline tax is intended has been curtailed to a mere skeleton of maintenance and construction with an impending deficit for the present calendar year of nearly $8,000,000, and

Whereas, by agreement the Governor and the Senate have decided with the concurrence of the House on a one cent additional tax on gasoline, and

Whereas, with closed policy so declared the refiners by common agreement have immediately absorbed the additional cent originally intended for the unemployed by a one cent increase in the retail price of gasoline thus grabbing $11,000,000 from the poor, the needy and the laborer who uses his car to get to work, and

Whereas, many Members of the House of Representatives have preserved the many tokens of protest and contempt inspired by these refiners, distributed through their agents and showered by unthinking constituents upon our heads with the declaration that the motorist can stand no further burden. Therefore be it

Resolved, that every member of the House of Representatives, now in possession of petitions, protests and denunciations (sundry and varied) now present same to the desk of the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for redistributions to said refiners and agents.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATEMENT BY MR. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

In 1929 the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania made a substantial investment in the health of the People of Pennsylvania by providing for funds for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Last week at a ceremony in one of the counties the last of that work was completed. It is with the purpose of freeing Pennsylvania from bovine tuberculosis from the outside by preventing cattle infected with bovine tuberculosis, that I ask for unanimous consent of this House for the presentation of a bill that would require all cattle shipped into the state of Pennsylvania be shipped in under the requirements of our Animal Industry Law requiring that they be clean from tuberculosis. This bill was drawn up for presentation to the Senate, in case unanimous consent is not secured here, but is introduced and presented to the House. I, therefore, ask for unanimous consent to present this bill to the House, and in case there is a refusal of that unanimous consent, we will then have to present the bill to the Senate and have it come through the other way.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to introduce a bill the title of which was read by the Clerk as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 110), entitled "A supplement to an act approved the twenty-second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, nine hundred and twenty-eight), entitled 'An act relating to domestic animals; defining domestic animals so as to include poultry; providing methods of improving the quality thereof, and of preventing, controlling, and eradicating diseases thereof; imposing certain duties upon practitioners of veterinary medicine in Pennsylvania; regulating the manufacture, use and sale of tuberculin, mallein and other biological products for use with domestic animals; defining the powers and duties of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, and the officers and employes thereof; fixing the compensation of the Deputy State Veterinarian; and providing penalties for the violation of this act,' regulating the bringing and importation of cattle, sheep, goats, swine, poultry and wild and semi-wild animals into the Commonwealth," providing that bovine cattle shall be brought into this Commonwealth in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by the Department of Agriculture.

The SPEAKER. The bill will be filed with the Clerk.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for further consideration and amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion by adding the words "public hearing."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to amend?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not think it necessary to have a public hearing on this measure. The Committee on Law and Order has been in conference with the different organizations representing all of the interests that are concerned with liquor legislation in a business way. We have also been in consultation with organizations representing churches and other kinds of fraternal organizations of every sort. We feel that we know what the public sentiment is in regard to this measure. The measure has been amended several times. We also have other amendments in line with the suggestions that were made to us by different organizations and different business representatives.

We feel that the amendment of Mr. Sowers for a public hearing is unnecessary. We do not have the time for a public hearing on this particular measure. I ask that the amendment to my motion be voted down.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the House Bill before you and the following one are liquor bills that have been referred to the Law and Order Committee. Many persons have asked for a public hearing on those two bills. From time to time they have told that public hearings would be granted, but from the early part of this session to the present time no real public hearing has been held on those bills. Saturday I received a request from a number of interests interested in the bill asking that they be heard, and I ask in fairness to the public that a public hearing be had on these two important bills, and if additional information and some other line of thought can be given to us, we should have the benefit of them, and I ask the House to vote for the amendment to the motion.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members of the Law and Order Committee have just had word that the Senate is very anxious to have this bill over in the Senate for their consideration. Time, we understand is getting short. We believe, and we have reason to believe, that the Senate will grant a public hearing on the bill. If this House grants a public hearing on the bill, it will just be a repetition. I again ask the members of the House to vote down the amendment of Mr. Sowers.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I am not a member of the Committee on Law and Order, I am one of the joint sponsors of the following bill, No. 2437, which, together with the present bill, form the amendments to the Liquor Control Board Acts. We have been working diligently and industriously. We have been in conference with various interests of the state, as Mr. Eberharter has informed you. However, today we received quite a number of requests for a public hearing. I believe that in the interest of time alone that we ought to grant these various demands for a public hearing. I have just spoken to Mr. Sowers and he says that such a hearing can be held on Wednesday of this week. If this bill goes back to committee and is amended in committee tomorrow, it cannot possibly reach third reading until next Monday night, so that there is no loss of time in granting these people the right which they now ask. I believe that if we grant these public hearings we will save time not only in this House but when the bills reach the Senate. These bills are strictly nonpartisan. You will notice that there are two Republicans and two Democrats as joint sponsors of these bills, in a strictly nonpartisan fashion.

I ask the members of the House to accept the amendment of Mr. Sowers to Mr. Eberharter's motion so that these bills may be recommitted for the purpose of amendment and a public hearing to be held on Wednesday of this week.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion to amend?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion as amended?
It was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2437, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section twenty-three of the Act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 916) entitled "An Act defining fraternal benefit societies and their status authorizing such societies to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits to members and their beneficiaries from funds collected and regulating such benefits and collections providing for the organization and incorporation of such societies and for their supervision regulation and examination by the Insurance Commissioner and for the admission of foreign societies designating tables of mortality as a basis for rates of contribution requiring all societies to make annual and other reports and appointing the Insurance Commission as attorney for service of process providing penalties for any violations of the act exempting such societies from taxation and certain other societies from its provisions and requiring beneficial associations other than fraternal benefit societies to report to and be supervised by the Insurance Commissioner and repealing existing laws" to require such societies to file with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of March succeeding the submission of the last preceeding annual report a valuation report of its benefit fund obligations in force

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Section twenty-three of the Act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 916) entitled "An Act defining fraternal benefit societies and their status authorizing such societies to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits to members and their beneficiaries from funds collected and regulating such benefits and collections providing for the organization and incorporation of such societies and for their supervision regulation and examination by the Insurance Commissioner and for the admission of foreign societies designating tables of mortality as a basis for rates of conrtibution requiring all societies to make annual and other reports and appointing the Insurance Commissioner as attorney for service of process providing penalties for any violations of the act exempting such societies from taxation and certain other societies from its provisions and requiring beneficial assocations other than fraternal benefit societies to report to and be supervised by the Insurance Commissioner and repealing existing laws" as amended by section four of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 796) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 23 Every society transacting business under this act shall annually on or before the first day of March file with the Insurance Commissioner in such form as he may require a statement under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers of its transactions for the calendar year ending December thirty-first preceeding and of its condition and standing on that date and shall include therein all accrued liability under unpaid claims where notice was received by the society at its home office before the end of such calendar year No society shall be required to include in such report any claim or claims notice of which had not been received by the society at its home office before the end of such yar It shall also furnish such other information as the Insurance Commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working The Commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society

In addition to the annual report herein required each society shall annually report to the commissioner a valuation of its benefit fund obligations in force on December thirty-first last preceding excluding those entered into within the year for which the report is filed in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current expenses Such report of valuation shall show as contingent liabilities the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation at not more than the average rate of interest earned on its invested assets during five calendar years preceding the date of such annual report less such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and as contingent assets the present mid-year value at the same rate of interest of the future net contributions provided in its constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected

In lieu of the above valuation any society at its option may show the net value of its benefit fund obligations subject to valuation at the rate of interest as hereinbefore provided and said net value when computed in the case of monthly contributions may be the mean of the terminal value for the end of the preceding and of the current certificate years from which said tabular values shall be deducted such portion thereof as may have been assumed by other associations or companies and in addition there may be deducted the present worth of the probable future annual savings in death losses as specified in the preceding paragraph

Every such valuation report shall include as a contingent liability an estimate made by or on behalf of the society of the probable future payments under unpaid claims notice of which was received by the society at its home office before the end of the calendar year covered by the annual report but which has not been approved for payment at the date of such report

Deferred payments or instalments of claims whether involving a life contingency or not shall be included in the valuation report as contingent liabilities on the happening of the contingency upon which such payments or instalments are thereafter to be paid All such liability shall be the present worth of such future payments or instalments at the average rate of interest earned by the society during the five calendar years preceding the date of such annual report

Each valuation report shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or at the request and expense of the society verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home State of the Society and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of [June] March succeeding the submission of the last preceding annual report

The minimum standard of valuation for all benefit fund obligations except for disability and dependent benefits shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality hereinbefore referred to or at the option of the society by any other standard table or a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with an interest assumption of not more than the average rate of interest earned on its invested assets during the five calendar years preceding such annual report

Every valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep a separate account of the same in its said valuation report shall charge as a liability the balance to the credit of such fund or funds at the date of such valuation Where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent and total disability benefits the valuation may be of death benefit only and in such case a separate accounting shall not be required

A report of such valuation with such explanation as the society may deem advisable shall be printed and mailed to each beneficial member of the society not later than July first of each year or in lieu thereof may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficial member of the society

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. CLIFF PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CLIFF PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 22, by inserting after the word "annually" at the end of said line the following: "Provided that the rate of two mills herein imposed shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes for the two years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and shall thereafter revert to the rate of one mill"

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 27, by inserting after the word "annually" where the same appears in said line the following: "Provided that the rate of one mill herein imposed shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes for the two years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and shall thereafter revert to the rate of one-half mill"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to postponed House Bill No. 607. Senate Bill No. 105, Printer's No. 5, entitled

An Act Empowering private corporations hereafter formed and municipalities to establish operate and maintain foreign-trade zones in or adjacent to ports of entry of the United States in accordance with the act of Congress of the United States and prescribing the powers and duties of such corporations and municipalities in connection therewith on page 31 of today's calendar, be reconsidered.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky vote on the consideration of the resolution?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, vote on the consideration of the resolution?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, his purpose in moving to reconsider the motion to recommit.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I wish to say that the membership of this House voted in haste to recommit this bill to the Committee on Corporations. This bill has been acted upon by the Senate. The Committee on Corporatidns held a public hearing on this bill and then reported it out favorably, it also has had two readings. There is no reason or purpose for the recommitment of this bill to the Committee on Corporations at this time.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I consulted Senator Woodward and it was with his consent that I asked to have this bill recommitted to that Committee.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDI. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Baldi, advise the membership the reason for recommitting this bill to the Committee on Corporations?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I spoke to Senator Woodward about it, and I believe he has further amendments to be introduced in Committee.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman to withdraw his motion until tomorrow so as to give Mr. Baldi and myself and whoever is interested an opportunity to consult with Senator Woodward further with respect to the amendments that he may or may not have. I have no personal knowledge of the matter but I would like to give Senator Woodward that opportunity.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might suggest in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that we restore this bill to the calendar as it was, leave it there on second reading, and then consult with Senator Woodward regarding the bill, but I do not see any purpose in recommitting it to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, and to state that his suggestion is satisfactory.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to this motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 9 as follows:

An Act to amend clause I of section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" authorizing townships to provide for fire hydrants and hose and to pay for the same from revenues derived from the general road tax

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That clause I of section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

I Lighting Fire Protection To light and illuminate the streets highways and other public places of the township with electric light gas or other illuminating medium and to provide for defraying the cost charges and expenses thereof and for such purposes to enter into contracts or agreements with any person copartnership association or corporation for a period not exceeding five years for the purpose of securing and maintaining a supply of light

To provide for the protection of property from fire and for such purposes to erect and place fire hydrants and purchase the necessary hose or to enter into contracts with water companies for the erection and placing of fire hydrants along the highways and to provide for defraying the cost charges and expenses thereof from revenues derived from the general road tax

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the bill which was before the membership, I believe, last week, or the week before—on a previous occasion, at least.—and it has been amended to omit the electric lighting clause, but it is practically the same bill. We still have the water feature. As you know, the taxpayers of the township would be called upon to furnish water and fire hose to the numerous villages, and that would impose a hardship upon the taxpayers.

I ask the members to vote down this bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Washington has stated that this is practically the same bill. I do not see it that way. I understood that the objection that was raised here last week by the gentleman from Washington and some others was as to the feature that provided electric lights could be supplied and the bill paid out of the general fund of the township. The bill has now been amended so that it takes out the supplying of electric light by the township and leaves that provision in the same situation as it is in the second class township code. In the second class township code electric light can now be supplied by setting up electric light districts, where the property owners so petition, and where the charges for the lights are made specifically against the properties in the district where they petition for electric light. I left in the bill, because if I had taken it out, there would have been no bill, the provision as to the fire hydrants. There has been not only in my own township but there has also been a large demand here, and much interest in the supplying of fire protection in the township. The gentleman from Washington said that would be an expense to the taxpayers. Everyone knows that when you put in fire protection, when you place properties within certain districts close to fire hydrants, it immediately reduces the insurance rate in those districts and changes the classification so that there is a decided saving to the taxpayer and to the home owner as a result of the reduction in his rates, and certainly there is a greater protection to the people of the community, and there is certainly a greater satisfaction to all of those communities where they have fire protection and where they have fire hydrants.

I therefore, ask you to support this bill.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am quite in accord with the gentleman from Delaware as to the benefits which would come to the villages and small municipalities from the installation of water plugs, but I am opposed to the method by which he proposes to secure them—that is, at the expense of the taxpayers who receive no benefit.

If this bill would call for the installation of fire plugs by the same methods by which municipalities now secure electricity, I would be very much in favor of the bill, but not at the expense of those who receive no benefit.

The farmers of the townships are already overtaxed and this is only imposing upon them an extra burden, which is not just.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to .

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the compromise tax bills. We have pledged ourselves to a tax program of sixty million dollars. In the compromise this bill was one that was agreed to. In order to uphold our pledge and our honor, I ask the members to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that in this bill only the poor man would pay the two cents?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that is true. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman by saying that it has always been said that the poor man has no money to put in the bank.

Mr. GATES. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that when the Federal two cent stamp tax was on checks, that after the amount had reached forty-one million dollars, certain persons got on to a way of defeating it, and it dropped six million dollars? Now, if this measure could be amended to take in these large corporations, I would be very happy to vote for the bill, but under present conditions they could draw checks or drafts on themselves and have them come into your bank for six or eight or ten thousand dollars, and then they could come in and lift the bunch with one check and pay two cents on it. If you will offer an amendment to catch the big fellow, I will be delighted to vote for the bill.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, this bill was proposed by the Senators, but because of the rules it had to be introduced in the House. If they want to make it that way, I have no objection. As it is our pledge to pass this program in the House, I would like to have this bill out tonight.

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, if you pass it that way, then you will catch no one but the small depositor in the banks in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I presume that the majority group pledged themselves to adopt some kind of a tax program. Some of the tax bills already adopted represent a major, financial crime. This one represents petty larceny.

The gentleman who has just spoken is absolutely right. The corporations and banks clear with a single check, ten thousand or twenty thousand, for two cents; John Doe, five dollars or two dollar check, would cost him two cents. It is a nuisance tax, and of all the taxes the people resent, it is a nuisance tax, because it hits them every day. A man is willing to pay once and be socked hard, but not a tax that nags him day after day, nags the house wife and nags everybody that tries to have a little bank account. This kind of tax went out of style in this country twenty years ago. It is penurious, petty larceny, and any administration or any House ought to be ashamed of it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to discuss the merits or the demerits of this bill. I merely want to correct the erroneous impression that may have been given to this House by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, when he stated that this House is pledged to vote for this bill. I know of no resolution, nor of any action taken by the minority of this House or by this House as a whole, wherein at any time, directly or indirectly, in any manner, shape or form, we pledged ourselves to vote for this tax measure, and I object rather strenousuly to the remarks of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, that we are committed to this bill. No action was ever taken by this House with respect to this measure or a similar measure, nor was any action ever taken by the Republican membership of this House one way or the other with respect to this bill. I did not want to permit the remarks of the gentleman from Berks to pass without being contradicted.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not know the paternity of this bill; I do not know the maternity of the bill; I do not know any of its predecessors or how many generations it came down to infest this House. I understand that this bill was one of the bills that was included in the tax compromise suggested at the meeting between the Governor, the members of the Senate and the members of this House. The bill was presented and it was agreed to by the Governor.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. COHEN. In view of the remarks that have been made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, and until we can straighten out the parentage of the "child". I move, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from York has stated another erroneous and improper fact. I would suggest to the Democratic members of this House that when they make statements on the floor of this House they ought to be sure of their statements and not make them haphazardly and recklessly.

This bill, as far as my knowledge is concerned, and I think I speak for every member of the Reepublican party in this House, was not the result of a compromise wherein any Republic member of this House participated, and when the gentleman speaks of a compromise meeting between the Governor and the members of the Senate and the mmbers of the House, I have no objection thereto provided he confines his remarks to the Democratic members of the House, if they were present, but to give the impression that we on this side of the House are breaking faith on a compromise plan that was agreed to by the members of this House is an absolutely improper thing to do.

We on the Republican side of this House will never break faith on any agreement that we may make. I object to any member of the Democratic party creating any such impression. I say to the Democratic gentleman who made that remark that he cannot possibly point to a single instance where we on this side of the House at any time ever broke faith with you on any measure. If the best you can do is to roar in derision upon a fact that is a fact, then it bespeaks very little for your intelligence. I hate to go so venomous with you, but it is a fact; you cannot show me where at any time I or the Republican minority of this House ever entered into any agreement wherein we subsequently broke faith.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 815.

An Act to amend sections two hundred seven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has concurred.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2544, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 762), as amended, entitled "An act providing for the creation and administration of a State Fund for the insurance of compensation for injuries to employes of subscribers thereto; declaring false oaths by the subscribers to be misdemeanors; and providing penalties for the violation thereof," by authorizing the State Workmens' Insurance Board to pay dividends in such proportion as it may determine; by giving the said board the right to reject any risk; and by authorizing the State Fund to write any form of workmen's compensation or employers' liability insurance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KOBELAK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offier amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 11 of title, by striking out the words "any risk" and insert in lieu thereof "risks except for certain reasons"

Amend section 1, page 4, line 22, by inserting after the word "reject" the following: "Provided however, That no risk shall be rejected at any time on account of race or color"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2206, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand three hundred and one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" as amended establishing a compulsory tax levy for fire protection.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Legislative Journal.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 21, 1935 No. 65

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 21, 1935.

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou art the supreme law-maker and the supreme judge of all the earth. Not only dost Thou set the bounds limiting our acts and thoughts, but from Thy throne uplifted high Thou dost pass judgment upon us and measure out unto us the commendation or condemnation which fixes our eternal destiny. And Thy judgments are always right and just.

Thou art the only safe absolute monarch the world has ever known. Such power to rule and control placed in any other hand than Thine would wreck the world and bring confusion and chaos among men.

Back of Thy absolute power lies Thy absolute love and Thy boundless knowledge. May all who are entrusted with human legislative power take their orders from Thee. Then shall justice and equity rule the race.

Be Thou, O Lord, our source of authority this day and every day, to the honor of Thy name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, prior to the birth of the Republican party, one of Pennsylvania's greatest jurists, Chief Justice Jeremiah S. Black said in delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in Sharpless vs. Mayor of Philadelphia, 21 Pa. 147:

"The General Assembly cannot pass any law to conflict with the rightful authority of Congress, nor perform a judicial or executive function, nor violate the popular privileges reserved by the Declaration of Rights, nor change the organic structure of the government, nor exercise any other power prohibited in the constitution. If it does any of these things, the judiciary claims, and in clear cases has always exercised, the right to declare such acts void.

"But beyond this there lies a vast field of power, granted to the legislature by the general words of the constitution, and not reserved, prohibited, or given away to others. Of this field the General Assembly is entitled to the full and uncontrolled possession. Their use of it can be limited only by their own discretion. * * * To me, it is plain that the General Assembly may exercise all powers which are properly legislative, and which are not taken away by our own, or by the federal constitution, as it is that the people have all the rights which are expressly reserved."

On May 8, 1935, for the first time in Pennsylvania history, the Senate was obliged to submit to coercion, in what Chief Justice Black declared to be its "vast field of power," in which it is entitled to "full and uncontrolled possession." A tax program was imposed, which was not of our choosing, but which as to details was dictated in the Governor's office, and within a definite and reiterated threat from Washington, that unless the program was adopted by May 15th, all federal funds would be diverted from Pennsylvania. We were made to understand that if a single bill included in the ten point program fails, that untold suffering will be inflicted upon Pennsylvania's citizens who are dependent upon relief, exactly as such an inhuman penalty has been inflicted upon the unfortunate citizenry of Illinois.

What a masterful triumph for "New Deal Democracy." Well may Governor Earle exclaim in the memorable words of King Pyrrhus, "Another such victory and we are lost." Now that Pennsylvania agriculture, commerce, industry and labor, and as well Pennsylvania taxpayers in general, are about to "drink the hemlock," as prescribed by Governor Earle, in consultation with Dictator Hopkins, certain questions will force themselves into the open for public consideration.

The first question is, by what authority is the Senate of Pennsylvania compelled to accept a dictated budget?

It will be conceded that the right to levy and collect taxes is a right reserved to the states. As was said by Thomas M. Cooley, in his Principles of Constitutional Law:

"When a particular power is found to belong to the states, they are entitled to the same complete independence in its exercise as is the National Government in wielding its own authority. Each within its sphere has sovereign powers."

We have searched the four corners of the Federal Emergency Relief Act of May 12, 1933 and as well the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, whence come all powers vested in Dictator Hopkins as the agent of the President of the United States, and we cannot find that any authority was conferred upon Mr. Hopkins or Governor Earle or upon anyone else to dictate Pennsylvania's budget. It is interesting to note that when Governor Earle issued his budget message last February, the budget called for $135,000,000 for unemployment relief: $15,000,000 prior to June 1, 1935 and the balance at the rate of $5,000,000 per month, beginning June 1, 1935 and ending June 1, 1937. An examination of the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933 shows that Governor Earle was attempting to collect $5,000,000 per month during a two year period, although under the law as it then stood, Hopkins' term expired May 12, 1935 and he had nothing to deliver.

We next inquire as to the yard stick by which $5,000,000 per month is fixed as Pennsylvania's fair share of unemployment relief?

According to a press dispatch issued from Washington on April 10th last:

"States and communities are called upon to provide $563,775,000 of public funds as their share of the relief load for the respective fiscal years beginning in 1935, an increase of $154,883,000 over the 1934 requirements, in an announcement issued today by Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator."

After much search, we have been unable to learn the method by which the sum of $563,775,000 is assessed upon the several states. The method of assessment is as much a mystery as is the constitutional or statutory authority conferred upon Hopkins or Earle for making any assessment whatever.

In determining whether or not $5,000,000 per month is a fair assessment upon Pennsylvania, certain circumstances must not be overlooked. It is a matter of record that thirty-one of the forty-eight states have been and are receiving federal relief for impoverished local school districts. No such aid has been afforded Pennsylvania. Further, it appears by a statement issued from Dictator Hopkins' office, that during the years 1933 and 1934, the proportional part of all relief in certain states which was furnished by the Federal Government was as follows: Alabama 96 percent; Arkansas 96.2 percent; Florida 97.7 percent; Louisiana 97.9 percent; South Carolina 98.2 percent Mississippi 97.4 percent and New Mexico 98.5 percent and the percentage of funds for relief purposes which Pennsylvania has received from the Federal Government is 65.6 percent. Further citation is unnecessary to prove that Governor Earle has not used any equitable yard stick in assessing $5,000,000 a month upon Pennsylvania.

Our third inquiry is as to what assurance have we that the Federal Government will furnish the monthly balances sufficient to meet Pennsylvania's unemployment needs? For any assurance we must look to the Emergency Relief Act of 1935. In that act after appropriating $4,000,000,000 "out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in the discretion and under the direction of the President," there is this proviso: "that except as to such part of the appropriation made herein as the President may deem necessary for continuing relief as authorized under the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933 as amended." Unlimited discretion is conferred upon the President, but nothing is guaranteed to Pennsylvania and the hope that Pennsylvania will receive needed federal funds is also limited by Section 10 of the same act which provides that "until June 30, 1936 or such earlier date as the President, by proclamation may fix, the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933, as amended, is continued in full force and effect." There is no definite guarantee by any act of Congress or by proclamation of the President that the unemployed of Pennsylvania will receive funds from the federal government. The unemployed of Pennsylvania are dependent upon the whims and caprices of Mr. Hopkins, and their only reliance is the hope that the decrees of Hopkins may hereafter be tempered with mercy.

Our fourth inquiry is, by what authority does Dictator Hopkins cut off Federal funds from a sovereign state as was done in Illinois and as was threatened in Pennsylvania? Our examination of the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933 and of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 gives us no answer to that question.

It seems very clear, however, that under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 that the powers of the President of the United States are unlimited. He may, if he wills, furnish all necessary relief, to the several states without any taxes for unemployment relief being levied by the states. And we are constrained to ask why, with $4,000,000,000 in the Federal Treasury, should Pennsylvania or Illinois or Missouri or any other state be compelled to levy taxes for unemployment relief? Why is it that the Federal Government, which during September 1933 took over the whole matter of unemployment relief, now seeks to turn it back to the several states? Why did Governor Earle in his budget message seek to impose $203,000,000 in new taxes, an amount which was $100,000,000 more than was necessary to appease Hopkins? Why did Governor Earle consistently refuse to urge Pennsylvania's claim to exemption from all State levies, before the Federal Dictator; an exemption which many southern and western states have heretofore enjoyed, and as far as we can learn, continue to enjoy?

We answered this question in our remarks upon the floor of the Senate on April 23rd when we said:

"There has been no real mystery, therefore, as to the reason for the insistent demand that the Legislature appropriate relief funds for a full two years, on the basis of $5,000,000 a month as the States share.

"On the contrary, the suspicion is becoming widespread that there has been and is a definite and well-considered program for deliberately enlarging the relief rolls for Democratic political purposes, even by the desperate expedient of hamstringing industry and crucifying labor by destroying more jobs."

What we then stated to be a suspicion, is now as clear as the noon day sun. Even though the first plank of the Democratic platform of 1934 promised "a job for every man who wants to work", it is now apparent that the aim of this administration is to destroy existing jobs. We could view Governor Earle's sins of omission and commission with charity, were there any evidence that he even travelled to Washington to fight for Pennsylvania's rights. But the conclusion is inescapable that Governor Earle's frequent trips to Washington have been to conspire with Hopkins against Pennsylvania; not to plead with Hopkins for Pennsylvania. Pennsylvanians will not long support an administration which was willing and anxious to foist $100,000,000 in new taxes upon Pennsylvania which are now conceded to be unnecessary.

Governor Earle's program is a threat against Pennsylvania's hope of business recovery. It is a menace to the future of Pennsylvania. These tax levies are confiscatory, unjust and unnecessary because Pennsylvania is not receiving from the federal government a proportional return of the federal tax load which Pennsylvanians are carrying.

To prove my contention I desire to quote the words of a distinguished Democratic National leader, Senator Josiah W. Bailey of North Carolina who said recently on the floor of the United States Senate:

"These big appropriations, this one billion in the instant bill, the $4,880,000,000 in the bill that we passed just recently, are not caught out of thin air. Every dollar of it that is ever paid—and as honest men we have in contemplation that it shall be paid—will be paid by the workers of America who create the national wealth. It is a toll upon labor. It is a toll upon the farmer. It is a toll upon commerce. Since my State of North Carolina constitutes one-fortieth of the population—Senators can make the calculations for their own States—I consider that at least one-fortieth of the public funds ought to be distributed in North Carolina. I am confronted with the fact that unless there is a reasonably equitable distribution of these immense funds the states which are the victims of the inequality will hopelessly go broke. In that sense a man has a duty of comparing the situation of his State with the situation of the Union as a whole."

Senator Bailey is right. Unless there is a reasonably equitable distribution of these immense funds it is certain that a state like Pennsylvania, which is the most conspicuous victim of the inequality, will hopelessly go broke. Pennsylvania cannot continue to be drained dry by federal taxation, and at the same time be persecuted through state levies raising colossal sums, allegedly for relief, but in reality for Democratic political control. We confidentially assert that when it is fully comprehended by the electorate of Pennsylvania that the objective of this administration is to maintain Democratic supremacy by increasing a costly bureauocracy; by continuing the dole; and by steadfastly refusing to cut the cost of government or to permit industry to find new jobs for labor that the Governor's triumph of May 8, 1935 will be found to be the "Austerlitz" of New Deal Democracy. November 3, 1936 will witness its "Waterloo".

REQUEST TO PRINT EXHIBITS

Mr. President, in support of my contention that there is no authority in federal law to compel any tax assessment upon Pennsylvania or to cut off federal relief funds from a state because of the failure of the Legislature to impose taxes, other than discretionary powers in the President of the United States, I offer as "Exhibit A" the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933, and as "Exhibit B" the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935, and ask unanimous consent that these two federal statutes be printed in the Legislative Journal immediately following my remarks.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I object.

MOTION TO PRINT EXHIBITS.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the exhibits offered by the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

EXHIBIT A

[H. R. 4606]

An Act to provide for cooperation by the Federal Government with the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia in relieving the hardship and suffering caused by unemployment, and for other purposes. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Congress hereby declares that the present economic depression has created a serious emergency, due to widespread unemployment and increasing inadequacy of State and local relief funds, resulting in the existing or threatened deprivation of a considerable number of families and individuals of the necessities of life, and making it imperative that the Federal Government cooperate more effectively with the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia in furnishing relief to their needy and distressed people.

Sec 2 (a) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized and directed to make available out of the funds of the Corporation not to exceed $500,000,000, in addition to the funds authorized under title 1 of the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932, for expenditure under the provisions of this Act upon certification by the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator provided for in section 3.

(b) The amount of notes, debentures, bonds, or other such obligations which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized and empowered under section 9 of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, to have outstanding at any one time is increased by $500,000,000: Provided, That no such additional notes, debentures, bonds, or other such obligations authorized by this subsection shall be issued except at such times in such amounts as the President shall approve.

(c) After the expiration of ten days after the date upon which the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator has qualified and has taken office, no application shall be approved by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under the provisions of title 1 of the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932, and the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator shall have access to all files and records of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation relating to the administration of funds under title 1 of such Act. At the expiration of such ten-day period, the unexpended and unobligated balance of the funds authorized under title 1 of such Act shall be available for the purposes of this Act.

Sec 3 (a) There is hereby created a Federal Emergency Relief Administration, all the powers of which shall be exercised by a Federal Emergency Relief Administrator (referred to in this Act as the "Administrator") to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Administrator shall receive a salary to be fixed by the President at not to exceed $10,000, and necessary traveling and subsistence expenses within the limitations prescribed by law for civilian employees in the executive branch of the Government. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration and the office of Federal Emergency Relief Administrator shall cease upon the expiration of two years after the date of enactment of this Act, and the unexpended balance on such date of any funds made available under the provisions of this Act shall be disposed of as the Congress may by law provide.

(b) The Administrator may appoint and fix the compensation of such experts and their appointment may be made and compensation fixed without regard to the civil service laws, or the Classification Act of 1923, as amended and the Administrator may, in the same manner, appoint and fix the compensation of such other officers and employees as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act, but such compensation shall not exceed in any case the sum of $8,000; and may make such expenditures (including expenditures for personal services and rent at the seat of government and elsewhere and for printing and binding), not to exceed $350,000, as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act, to be paid by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation out of funds made available by this Act upon presentation of vouchers approved by the Administrator or by an officer of the Administration designated by him for that purpose. The Administrator may, under rules and regulations prescribed by the President, assume control of the administration in any State or States where, in his judgment, more effective and efficient cooperation between the State and Federal authorities may thereby be secured in carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(c) In executing any of the provisions of this Act, the Administrator, and any person duly authorized or designated by him, may conduct any investigation pertinent or material to the furtherance of the purposes of this Act and, at the request of the President shall make such further investigations and studies as the President may deem necessary in dealing with problems of unemployment relief.

(d) The Administrator shall print monthly, and shall submit to the President and to the Senate and the House of Representatives (or to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, if those bodies are not in session), a report of his activities and expenditures under this Act. Such reports shall, when submitted, be printed as public documents.

Sec. 4 (a) Out of the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation made available by this Act, the Administrator is authorized to make grants to the several States to aid in meeting the costs of furnishing relief and work relief and in relieving the hardship and suffering caused by unemployement in the form of money, service, materials, and/or commodities to provide the necessities of life to persons in need as a result of the present emergency, and/or to their dependants, whether resident, transient, or homeless.

(b) Of the amounts made available by this Act not to exceed $250,000,000 shall be granted to the several States applying therefor, in the following manner: Each State shall be entitled to receive grants equal to one third of the amount expended by such State, including the civil subdivisions thereof, out of public moneys from all sources for the purposes set forth in subsection (a) of this section; and such grants shall be made quarterly, beginning with the second quarter in the calendar year 1933, and shall be made during any quarter upon the basis of such expenditures certified by the States to have been made during the preceding quarter.

(c) The balance of the amounts made available by this Act, except the amount required for administrative expenditures under section 3, shall be used for grants to be made whenever, from an application presented by a State, the Administrator finds that the combined moneys which can be made available within the State from all sources, supplemented by any moneys, available under subsection (b) of this section, will fall below the estimated needs within the State for the purposes specified in subsection (a) of this section; Provided, That the Administrator may certify out of the funds made available by this subsection additional grants to States applying therefor to aid needy persons who have no legal settlement in any one State or community, and to aid in assisting cooperative and self-help associations for the barter of goods and services.

(d) After October 1, 1933, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b), the unexpended balance of the amounts available for the purposes of subsection (b) may, in the discretion of the Administrator and with the approval of the President, be available for grants under subsection (c).

(e) The decision of the Administrator as to the purpose of any expenditure shall be final.

(f) The amount available to any one State under subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall not exceed 15 per centum of the total amount made available by such subsections.

Sec. 5 Any State desiring to obtain funds under this Act shall through its Governor make application therefor from time to time to the Administrator. Each application so made shall present in the manner requested by the Administrator information showing (1) the amounts necessary to meet relief needs in the State during the period covered by such application and the amounts available from public or private sources within the State, its political subdivisions, and private agencies, to meet the relief needs of the State, (2) the provision made to assure adequate administrative supervision, (3) the provision made for suitable standards of relief, and (4) the purposes for which the funds requested will be used.

Sec. 6 The Administrator upon approving a grant to any State shall so certify to the Reconstrucion Finance Corporation which shall, except upon revocation of a certificate by the Administrator, make payments without delay to the State in such amounts and at such times as may be prescribed in the certificate. The Governor of each State receiving grants under this Act shall file monthly with the Administrator, and in the form required by him, a report of the disbursements made upder such grants.

Sec. 7 As used in the foregoing provisions of this Act, the term "State" shall include the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico; and the term "Governor'" shall include the Commissioners of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 8 This Act may be cited as the "Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933."

Approved May 12th 1933.

EXHIBIT B.

[Public Resolution—No. 11—74th Congress]
[H. J. Res. 117]

Joint Resolution

Making appropriations for relief purposes.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in order to provide relief, work relief and to increase employment by providing for useful projects, there is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in the discretion and under the direction of the President, to be immediately available and to remain available until June 30, 1937, the sum of $4,000,000,000, together with the separate funds established for particular areas by proclamation of the President pursuant to section 15 (f) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (but any amounts thereof shall be available for use only for the area for which the fund was established); not exceeding $500,000,000 in the aggregate of any savings or unexpended balances in funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; and not exceeding a total of $380,000,000 of such unexpended balances as the President may determine are not required for the purposes for which authorized, of the following appropriations, namely: The appropriation of $3,300,000,000 for national industrial recovery contained in the Fourth Deficiency Act, fiscal year 1933, approved June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 274); the appropriation of $950,000,000 for emergency relief and civil works contained in the Act approved February 15, 1934 (48 Stat. 351); the appropriation of $899,675,000 for emergency relief and public works, and the appropriation of $525,000,000 to meet the emergency and necessity for relief in stricken agricultural areas, contained in the Emergency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1935, approved June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1055); and any remainder of the unobligated moneys referred to in section 4 of the Act approved March 31, 1933 (48 Stat. 22): Provided, That except as to such part of the appropriation made herein as the President may deem necessary for continuing relief as authorized under the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933, as amended, or for restoring to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works any sums which after December 28, 1934, were, by order of the President impounded or transferred to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration from appropriations heretofore made available to such Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works (which restoration is hereby authorized), this appropriation shall be available for the following classes of projects, and the amounts to be used for each class shall not, except as hereinafter provided, exceed the respective amounts stated, namely: (a) Highways, roads, streets, and grade-crossing elimination, $800,000,000; (b) rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken agricultural areas, and water conservation, trans-mountain water diversion and irrigation and reclamation, $500,000,000; (c) rural electrification, $100,000,000; (d) housing, $450,000,000; (e) assistance for educational, professional and clerical persons, $300,000,000; (f) Civilian Conservation Corps, $600,000,000; (g) loans or grants, or both, for projects of States, Territories, Possessions, including subdivisions and agencies thereof, municipalities, and the District of Columbia, and self-liquidating projects of public bodies thereof, where in the determination of the President, not less than twenty-five per centum of the loan or the grant, or the aggregate thereof, is to be expended for work under each particular project, $900,000,000; (h) sanitation, prevention of soil erosion, prevention of stream pollution, sea coast erosion, reforestation, forestation, flood control, rivers and harbors and miscellaneous projects, $350,000,000: Provided further, That not to exceed 20 per centum of the amount herein appropriated may be used by the President to increase any one or more of the foregoing limitations if he finds it necessary to do so in order to effectuate the purpose of this joint resolution: Provided further, That no part of the appropriation made by this joint resolution shall be expended for munitions, warships, or military or naval materiel; but this proviso shall not be construed to prevent the use of such appropriation for new buildings, reconstruction of buildings and other improvements in military or naval reservations, posts, forts, camps, cemeteries, or fortified areas, or for projects for nonmilitary or nonnaval purposes in such places.

Except as hereinafter provided, all sums allocated from the appropriation made herein for the construction of public highways and other related projects (except within or adjacent to national forests, national parks, national parkways, or other Federal reservations) shall be apportioned by the Secretary of Agriculture in the manner provided by section 204 (b) of the National Industrial Recovery Act for expenditure by the State highway departments under the provisions of the Federal Highway Act of November 9, 1921, as amended and supplemented, and subject to the provisions of section 1 of the Act of June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 993): Provided, That any amounts allocated from the appropriation made herein for the elimination of existing hazards to life at railroad grade crossings, including the separation or protection of grades at crossings, the reconstruction of existing railroad grade crossing structures, and the relocation of highways to eliminate grade crossings, shall be apportioned by the Secretary of Agriculture to the several States (including the Territory of Hawaii and the District of Columbia), one-half on population as shown by the latest decennial census, one-fourth on the mileage of the Federal-aid highway system as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, and one-fourth on the railroad mileage as determined by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to be expended by the State highway departments under the provisions of the Federal Highway Act of November 9, 1921, as amended and supplemented, and subject to the provisions of section 1 of such Act of June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 993); but no part of the funds apportioned to any State or Territory under this joint resolution for public highways and grade crossings need be matched by the State or Territory: And provided further, That the President may also allot funds made available by this joint resolution for the construction, repair, and improvement of public highways in Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, and money allocated under this joint resolution to relief agencies may be expended by such agencies for the construction and improvement of roads and streets: Provided, however, That the expenditure of funds from the appropriation made herein for the construction of public highways and other related projects shall be subject to such rules and regulations as the President may prescribe for carrying out this paragraph and preference in the employment of labor shall be given (except in executive, administrative, supervisory, and highly skilled positions) to persons receiving relief, where they are qualified, and the President is hereby authorized to predetermine for each State the hours of work and the rates of wages to be paid to skilled, intermediate, and unskilled labor engaged in such construction therein: Provided further, That rivers and harbors projects, reclamation projects (except the drilling of wells, development of springs and subsurface waters), and public buildings projects undertaken pursuant to the provisions of this joint resolution shall be carried out under the direction of the respective permanent Government departments or agencies now having jurisdiction of similar projects.

Funds made available by this joint resolution may be used, in the discretion of the President, for the purpose of making loans to finance, in whole or in part, the purchase of farm lands and necessary equipment by farmers, farm tenants, croppers, or farm laborers. Such loans shall be made on such terms as the President shall prescribe and shall be repaid in equal annual installments, or in such other manner as the President may determine.

Funds made available by this joint resolution may be used, in the discretion of the President for the administration of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, during the period of twelve months after the effective date of this joint resolution.

Sec. 2. The appropriation made herein shall be available for use only in the United States and its Territories and possessions. The provisions of the Act of February 15, 1934 (48 Stat. 351), relating to disability or death compensation and benefits shall apply to those persons receiving from the appropriations made herein, for services rendered as employees of the United States, security payments in accordance with schedules established by the President: Provided, That so much of the sum herein appropriated as the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, with the approval of the President, estimates and certifies to the Secretary of the Treasury will be necessary for the payment of such compensation and administrative expenses shall be set aside in a special fund to be administered by the Commission for such purposes; and after June 30, 1936, such special fund shall be available for these purposes annually in such amounts as may be specified therefor in the annual appropriation Acts. The provisions of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 41, sec. 5) shall not apply to any purchase made or service procured in carrying out the provisions of this joint resolution when the aggregate amount involved is less than $300.

Sec. 3. In carrying out the provisions of this joint resolution the President may (a) authorize expenditures for contract stenographic reporting services; supplies and equipment; purchase and exchange of law books, books of reference, directories, periodicals, newspapers and press clippings; travel expenses, including the expense of attendance at meetings when specifically authorized; rental at the seat of government and elsewhere; purchase, operation, and maintenance of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles; printing and binding; and such other expenses as he may determine necessary to the accomplishment of the objectives of this joint resolution; and (b) accept and utilize such voluntary and uncompensated services, appoint, without regard to the provisions of the civil-service laws, such officers and employees, and utilize such Federal officers and employees, and, with the consent of the State, such State and local officers and employees, as may be necessary, prescribe their authorities, duties, responsibilities, and tenure, and, without regard to the Classification Act of 1923, as amended, fix the compensation of any officers and employees so appointed.

Any Administrator or other officer, or the members of any central board, or other agency, named to have general supervision at the seat of Government over the program and work contemplated under the appropriation made in section 1 of this joint resolution and receiving a salary of $5,000 or more per annum from such appropriation, and any State or regional administrator receiving a salary of $5,000 or more per annum from such appropriation (except persons now serving as such under other law), shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate: Provided, That the provisions of section 1761 of the Revised Statutes shall not apply to any such appointee and the salary of any person so appointed shall not be increased for a period of six months after confirmation.

Sec. 4. In carrying out the provisions of this joint resolution the President is authorized to establish and prescribe the duties and functions of necessary agencies within the Government.

Sec. 5. In carrying out the provisions of this joint resolution the President is authorized (within the limits of the appropriation made in section 1) to acquire, by purchase or by the power of eminent domain, any real property or any interest therein, and improve, develop, grant, sell, lease (with or without the privilege of purchasing), or otherwise dispose of any such property or interest therein.

Sec. 6. The President is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out this joint resolution, and any willful violation of any such rule or regulation shall be punishable by fine of not to exceed $1,000.

Sec. 7. The President shall require to be paid such rates of pay for all persons engaged upon any project financed in whole or in part, through loans or otherwise, by funds appropriated by this joint resolution, as will in the discretion of the President accomplish the purpose of this joint resolution, and not affect adversely or otherwise tend to decrease the going rates of wages paid for work of a similar nature.

The President may fix different rates of wages for various types of work on any project, which rates need not be uniform throughout the United States: Provided, however, That whenever permanent buildings for the use of any departments of the Government of the United States, or the District of Columbia, are to be constructed by funds appropriated by this joint resolution, the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1931 (U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 40, sec. 276a), shall apply but the rates of wages shall be determined in advance of any bidding thereon.

Sec. 8. Wherever practicable in the carrying out of the provisions of this joint resolution, full advantage shall be taken of the facilities of private enterprise.

Sec. 9. Any person who knowingly and with intent to defraud the United States makes any false statement in connection with any application for any project, employment, or relief aid under the provisions of this joint resolution, or diverts, or attempts to divert, or assists in diverting for the benefit of any person or persons not entitled thereto, any moneys appropriated by this joint resolution or any services or real or personal property acquired thereunder, of who knowingly, by means of any fraud, force, threat, intimidation, or boycott, deprives any person of any of the benefits to which he may be entitled under the provisions of this joint resolution, or attempts so to do, or assists in so doing, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Sec. 10. Until June 30, 1936, or such earlier date as the President by proclamation may fix, the Federal Emergency Relief Act of 1933, as amended, is continued in full force and effect.

Sec. 11. No part of the funds herein appropriated shall be expended for the administrative expenses of any department bureau, board, commission, or independent agency of the Government if such administrative expenses are ordinarily financed from annual appropriations, unless additional work is imposed thereupon by reason of this joint resolution.

Sec. 12. The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works established under title II of the National Industrial Recovery Act is hereby continued until June 30, 1937, and is authorized to perform such of its functions under said Act and such functions under this joint resolution as may be authorized by the President. All sums appropriated to carry out the purposes of said Act shall be available until June 30, 1937. The President is authorized to sell any securities acquired under said Act or under this joint resolution and all moneys realized from such sales shall be available to the President, in addition to the sums heretofore appropriated under this joint resolution, for the making of further loans under said Act or under this joint resolution.

Sec. 13. (a) The acquisition of articles, materials, and supplies for the public use, with funds appropriated by this joint resolution, shall be subject to the provisions of section 2 of title III of the Treasury and Post Office Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1934; and all contracts let pursuant to the provisions of this point resolution shall be subject to the provisions of section 3 of title III of such Act.

(b) Any allocation, grant, or other distribution of funds for any project, Federal or non-Federal, from the appropriation made by this joint resolution, shall contain stipulations which will provide for the application of title III of such Act to the acquisition of articles, materials and supplies for use in carrying out such project.

Sec. 14. The authority of the President under the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act for the relief of unemployment through the performance of useful public work, and for other purposes", approved March 31, 1933, as amended, is hereby continued to and including March 31, 1937.

Sec. 15. A report of the operations under this joint resolution shall be submitted to Congress before the 10th day of January in each of the next three regular sessions of Congress, which report shall include a statement of the expenditures made and obligations incurred, by classes and amounts.

Sec. 16. This joint resolution may be cited as the "Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935."

Approved, April 8, 1935, 4 p. m.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations:

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS —RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 406 (House Bill No. 817), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 662) entitled "An act relating to retirement from the Pennsylvania National Guard" by including service in United States Navy or Marine Corps in preferred classifications and providing further for retirements and the rights of retired persons

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendment having been printed as required by the Constitution, was twice read as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 7 by adding after the word "classification" the following: "and providing further for retirements and the rights of retired persons;" also Section 1, page 1, line 12 by adding after the word "person" the following: "now retired or who may hereafter be retired from the Pennsylvania National Guard;" also page 2, line 4 by adding after the word "retired" the following: "application made to the Adjutant General be placed upon the retired list;" also line 9 by adding after the word "retired" the following: "application made to the Adjutant General be placed upon the retired list;" also line 14 by striking out the word "way" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "war;" also by adding after the word "act" in line 21, the following: "All retired officers shall be entitled to wear the uniform of their grade as retired officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard on all proper military and semi-military occasions.

MOTION TO NON-CONCUR IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate non-concur in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 406 (House Bill No. 817).

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the motion to non-concur is not in oredr. It can be cured by the withdrawal of the motion by the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Bennett; but a motion to non-concur is not in order—the question before the Senate is, "Will the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House?" That is the only question before the Senate; and in order that we may not have any confusion, I would request that the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Bennett, withdraw his motion, and simply request that the Senate vote to non-concur in the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that time would be saved, and the matter facilitated, if the direct motion—"Shall the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House?" were to be voted upon by the Senate; however, the Chair disagrees with the point of order raised by the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman: the motion is not out of order; it is proper along these lines.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The motion has been withdrawn.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—7

Frey,	McGinnis,	Reed,	Salus,
Kahle,	Rankin,	(Washington)
McCreesh,

NAYS—39

Clark,	Law,	Roberts,	Trainer,
Coyne,	Mallery,	Rodgers,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	McClure,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL FOR CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1046 (House Bill No. 1885), entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred twenty-six of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" by exempting from the provisions thereof persons fishing in the waters of the Delaware River lying between New York and Pennsylvania holding a fishing license issued by the State of New York and persons fishing in the waters of the Pymatuning Lake holding a fishing license issued by the State of Ohio

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendment having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows: Amend title page 1 line 11 by adding after the word "New York" the following: "and persons fishing in the waters of the Pymatuning Lake holding a fishing license by the State of Ohio."

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would respectfully request that the Senate non-cur in the bill in order that certain amendments may be taken care of.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—4

Cavalcante,	Frey,	McCreesh,	Rankin,

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON CONCURRING IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 752, entitled:

An Act requiring persons applying for or receiving relief to furnish under affidavit certain information and to sign a bond conditioned on the truthfulness of his statements and the lack of fraud or misrepresentation empowering certain persons to administer oaths and prescribing penalties

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows: Amend section 1 page 2 line 4 by striking out the article "A" and inserting in lieu thereof "his or her own"; also line 4 by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the words "without surety".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47

Aron,	Graff,	McGinnis,	Rodgers,

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 39, as follows:

An Act for the protection of the health safety and welfare of women and minors in any occupation trade or industry except domestic service in private homes farm labor by regulating under the police power of the Commonwealth the minimum wage which shall be paid to such women and minors providing for wage boards their powers and the procedure to determine the necessity for and to establish the minimum wage standard in any industry where the health safety and welfare of women and minors is jeopardized by the payment of an oppressive and unreasonable wage defining the powers of and imposing duties on courts the Attorney General the Department of Labor and Industry and the Secretary of Labor and Industry imposing certain duties on employers and requiring certain records to be kept and information to be furnished by them prohibiting contracts for and payment of less than the minimum wage standards and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following terms shall be construed to have the following meaning except in those instances where the context clearly indicates otherwise

(a) "Secretary" shall mean the Secretary of Labor and Industry

(b) "Wage board" shall mean a board created as provided in section five of the act

(c) "Women" shall mean females of twenty-one years or over

(d) "Minor" shall mean a person of either sex under the age of twenty-one years

(e) "Occupation" shall mean an industry trade business or branch thereof or class of work therein in which women or minors are gainfully employed as enumerated classified and tabulated by the Department of Labor and Industry but shall not include domestic service in private homes or labor on a farm

(f) "An oppressive an unreasonable wage" shall mean a wage which is both less than the fair and reasonable value of the services rendered and less than sufficient to meet the minimum cost of living necessary for health

(g) "A fair wage" shall mean a wage fairly and reasonably commensurate with the value of the service or class of service rendered In establishing a minimum fair wage for any service or class of service under this act a wage board shall take into account all relevant circumstances affecting the value of the service or class of service rendered and be guided by like considerations as would guide a court in a suit for the reasonable value of services rendered where services are rendered at the request of an employer without contract as to the amount of the wage to be paid and may consider the wages paid in the Commonwealth for work of like or comparable character by employers who voluntarily maintain minimum fair wage standards

(h) "A mandatory order" shall mean an order the violation of which shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in section fifteen (b) of this act

(i) "The court" shall mean any court of common pleas of the Commonwealth having appropriate jurisdiction as provided in section four of this act

(j) "Employer" shall refer equally to a corporation partnership or other legal entity as well as to an individual

Section 2 It is hereby declared to be against the public policy of the Commonwealth for any employer to employ a woman or a minor in any occupation in this Commonwealth at an oppressive and unreasonable wage Any contract agreement or understanding for or in relation to such employment at an oppressive and unreasonable wage shall be null and void

Section 3 The Department of Labor and Industry is required to keep complete and accurate records of all employers in occupations as defined in section one clause (e) of this act and to classify the same in such manner as will best effect the purposes of this act and the secretary shall have full power and authority

(a) To investigate and ascertain the wages of women and minors employed in any occupation in the Commonwealth

(b) To enter the place of business or employment of any employer of women and minors in any occupation for the purpose of examining and inspecting records required to be kept under this act and for the purpose of ascertaining whether orders of the courts have been and are being complied with and

(c) To require from such employer full and correct statements in writing of the wages paid to all women and minors in his employment

Section 4 The secretary shall have the power and it shall be his duty on the petition of fifty or more qualified voters of the Commonwealth to cause an investigation to be made of the wages being paid to women or minors in any occupation to ascertain whether any substantial number of women or minors in such occupation are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages If on the basis of information in the possession of the secretary with or without a special investigation the secretary is of the opinion that any substantial number of women or minors in any occupation or occupations are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages he shall petition the court of common pleas of the county where the persons alleged to be receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages are employed setting forth the facts and asking the court to appoint a wage board to report upon the establishment of minimum fair wage rates for such women or minors in such occupation or occupations

Section 5 (a) A wage board shall be composed of a representative of the employers in such occupation a representative of the employes in such occupation and a disinterested person representing the Commonwealth one of whom shall be designated as chairman shall be forthwith appointed by the court Members of a wage board shall be citizens of Pennsylvania The representatives of the employers and employes shall be selected by the court so far as practicable from nominations submitted by employers and employes in such occupation Two-thirds of the members of such wage board shall constitute a quorum and the report of such wage board shall require a vote of two members with the right of a dissenting member to file a minority report Members of a wage board shall receive such compensation as the court shall direct not exceeding five dollars per day for every day that testimony is actually taken and in addition shall be reimbursed for all necessary traveling expenses from moneys appropriated for such purposes by the Commonwealth The wage board shall appoint a competent stenographer approved by the court who shall transcribe all testimony and who shall receive such compensation as may be approved by the court not however exceeding the compensation customarily allowed court stenographers acting under the jurisdiction of the said court

(b) A wage board shall have power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books records and other evidence relative to any matters under investigation Such subpoenas shall be signed and issued by the chairman of the wage board and shall be served and have the same effect as if issued out of the court A wage board shall have power to cause depositions of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed for depositions in civil actions in the courts of common pleas

(c) The secretary shall furnish to a wage board a complete list of the names and addresses of all employers of women and minors of the occupation complained of and the wage board shall take no testimony until all employers whose names and addresses have been so furnished shall have had at least five days' notice by registered letter of the time and place of meeting of the wage board but a failure to properly designate the employer shall have not avoid the legality of the notice provided a correct address is given and the notice is actually received by the employer or his officer or agent The secretary shall cause to be brought before the committee any witnesses whom he deems material A wage board may summon other witnesses or call upon the secretary to furnish additional information to aid it in its deliberations

All witnesses subpoenaed by the wage board shall be entitled to the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil cases which shall be paid from appropriations made for such purposes In case of failure on the part of any person to comply with any subpoena of the wage board or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated before any wage board it shall be the duty of the court on the application of two members of the wage board to compel obedience in the same manner that such obedience would be compelled by contempt proceedings or otherwise in a proceeding pending before said court

(d) Within sixty days of its organization a wage board shall submit a report including its recommendations as to minimum fair wage standards for the women or minors in the occupation or occupations the wage standards of which the wage board was appointed to investigate If its report is not submitted within such time the court may on application to it compel its final report within a fixed time thereafter not exceeding thirty days or constitute a new wage board and direct all testimony papers and other records to be turned over to the new board and testimony theretofore taken shall be considered in evidence by the new board

(e) A wage board may recommend minimum fair wage rates varying with localities if on the judgment of the wage board conditions make such local differentiation proper and do not effect an unreasonable discrimination against any locality

(f) A wage board may recommend a suitable scale of rates for learners and apprentices in any occupation or occupations which scale of learners' and apprentices' rates may be less than the regular minimum fair wage rates recommended for experienced women or minor workers in such occupation or occupations

Section 6 The report of a wage board shall be filed with the court and within ten days thereafter any party in interest may file exceptions thereto If exceptions are filed by any party in interest the court shall fix a day for argument to be held within ten days of the filing of such exceptions The court shall review the report of the wage board and may in its discretion review the testimony and after argument where exceptions are filed shall approve modify or disapprove the report as in its judgment is deemed fair and equitable The court may resubmit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board by it appointed with a statement of the reasons for the resubmission When the court makes any final order on a wage board report it shall file all testimony and exhibits in the office of the prothonotary

Section 7 Whenever the court shall enter any order on the report of a wage board the court shall if no appeal has been taken or after an appeal has been finally adjudicated issue a mandatory order defining the minimum wages in the occupation as approved by the court The court may also include in its order such regulations as it deems appropriate to safeguard the minimum fair wage standards established and such order shall be effective and binding upon the employer affected by the proceeding

Section 8 If the secretary has reason to believe that any employer is not observing a mandatory order made by the court the secretary may on at least ten days' notice summon such employer to appear before the secretary to show cause why the same be not complied with After a hearing and a finding by the secretary of non-observance the secretary shall refer the proceeding to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth to proceed either by contempt proceedings or otherwise as in the opinion of the Attorney General will best fulfill the purposes of this act

Section 9 At any time after a mandatory order has been in effect for at least six months the secretary may on his own motion and after said order has been in effect at least one year he shall on petition of fifty or more qualified voters of the Commonwealth petition the court to reconsider the minimum fair wage rates set therein and to reconvene the same wage board or appoint a new wage board to recommend whether or not the rate or rates contained in such order should be modified The report of such wage board shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed in sections six and seven of this act

Section 10 From any report as finally approved by the court an appeal may be taken by any person aggrieved to the Supreme Court The Attorney General of the Commonwealth shall represent women and minors in prosecuting or defending such appeal if the secreatry shall request him so to do and such intervention in the opinion of the secretary is appropriate and necessary to safeguard the interest of women and minors Any such appeal shall be taken within thirty days after the order of the court is made and not thereafter In any such appeal the Supreme Court shall consider the entire record of the proceedings including all testimony and on its own independent judgment determine whether or not the findings made by a wage board as approved by the court below in its order are reasonable and proper The Supreme Court may remit any case back with directions to reform or amplify any findings of facts which it deems necessary

Section 11 Every employer of women and minor workers shall keep a true and accurate record of the hours worked by each the wages paid by him to each and shall furnish to the secretary or a member of any wage board upon demand a sworn statement of the same Every employer subject to a mandatory order shall keep a copy of such order posted in a conspicuous place in every room in which women or minors are employed Employers shall be furnished copies of orders by the secretary on request without charge

Section 12 (a) Any employer and his agent or any officer or agent of any employer who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employe because such employe has served or is about to serve on a wage board or has testified or is about to testify before any wage board or in any other investigation or proceeding under or related to this act or because such employer believes that said employe may serve on any wage board or may testify before any wage board or in any investigation or proceeding under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200)

(b) Any employer or his officer or agent who pays or agrees to pay to any woman or minor employe less than the rates applicable to such woman or minor employe less than the rates applicable to such woman or minor under a mandatory order made by the court shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) or by imprisonment of not less than ten nor more than ninety days or by both such fine and imprisonment upon a first conviction and upon a subsequent conviction of violation of the same mandatory order a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment of not less than thirty nor more than one hundred eighty days or by both such fine and imprisonment

(c) Any employer or his officer or agent who wilfully violates any other provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100)

Section 13 If any woman or minor worker is paid by his employer less than the minimum fair wage to which he is entitled under or by virtue of a mandatory order he may recover in a civil action the full amount of such minimum wage less any amount actually paid to him by the employer together with costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court Any agreement between him and his employer to work for less than such mandatory minimum fair wage shall be no defense to such action At the request of any woman or minor worker paid less than the minimum wage to which he was entitled under a mandatory order the secretary in his discretion may take an assignment of such wage claim in trust for the assigning employe and may bring any legal action necessary to collect such claim and the employer shall be required to pay the costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court which fee shall not be less than five per centum of the claim

Section 14 The Legislature shall from time to time make appropriations to the Department of Labor and Industry to pay the expenses of wage boards witness fees and mileage court costs compensation of assistants of wage boards postage telephone telegraph and other miscellaneous expenses and of the Department of Labor and of the Department of Justice

Section 15 If any provisions of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid the remainder of the act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby

Section 16 Anything herein required to be done by the secretary may be performed by an officer or employe of the Department of Labor and Industry deputized to so act and anything required of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth may be done by a deputy attorney general

Section 17 This act shall take effect thirty days after its enactment into law

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 39, in a measure, is in accord with the Democratic principles as outlined in the platform of the Democratic Party; at the same time the bill gives the courts original jurisdicion in the matter of establishing wages, and therefore it does not meet the requirements, as I see it. Therefore, I will vote in opposition to the bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, this, is a bill to comply with what seems to be the popular request that we have a minimum wage. It is the only bill that is before the Senate at this time which will offer relief along these lines. If our Democratic friends feel as though they do not want to vote for this bill, it is up to them. It looks like good legislation, and I believe that it ought to be passed at this time. If in the future there should come before this Senate a bill which meets the requirements more fully than this bill does, that bill, as well as this one, will be before the Governor, and he will have his choice as to which he thinks is for the best interest of the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I want to say that I am heartily in favor of this bill, and intend to vote for it, because it embodies a principle in which I believe; and that is, that there should be redress for women and minors in industry who are subjected to starvation wages. Certain statements with regard to this bill were made last evening from the rostrum by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, with the statements I cannot agree.

The Governor said this bill differs substantially from the House Bill in that it assigns the task of establishing wage rates to the County Courts of Common Pleas. That is not my understanding of the bill. Both bills provide for Wage Boards: in the House Bill there is a complicated set-up of nine members on the Wage Board, whereas in the present bill there is provided a Wage Board of three members—one member suggested by Labor, one suggested by Industry, and the third appointed by the Courts; and these Boards have the same function in both bills, namely, to take evidence and to determine what the reasonable minimum wage should be. Therefore, I think His Excellency, the Governor, inadvertently stated that the task of establishing wage rates was put in the Courts; it is put in a Wage Board, from which a majority and a minority report can be found, and after it is found it can be approved by the Court.

His Excellency, the Governor, further stated that this would not only place the problem before judicial bodies inexperienced in handling wage and labor problems but also would throw the entire question upon the sixty-seven counties. It is true it will throw the problems upon the various counties, but I fail to see the force of the argument that it is putting the matter in bodies inexperienced in handling wage and labor problems. Boards are created in exactly the same manner under both bills.

His Excellency, the Governor, further said that it would be ruinous to place the difficult task of establishing fair minimum wage rates anywhere but in the most qualified hands. It may be noticed that under the House Bill the predominant influence, the controlling influence, will be the three members appointed by the Department of Labor; and I fail to see, therefore, where there is any course in the Governor's contention that one is more qualified than the other.

He further stated, "I will oppose any so-called minimum wage bill which is unsound and which does not place administration of the Act in the Department of Labor and Industry." Certainly His Excellency was misinformed on that point with reference to this bill, because the entire administration is placed in governmental departments. The Wage Board can only come into existence under an investigation made by the Department of Labor, after orders are fixed for minimum wages. The enforcement is entirely placed in the Department of Labor and the office of the Attorney General. The difference in the two bills is small.

The method of dealing with the question of fixing the wages, I feel, should be through competent evidence given under legal procedure, and not the peculiar method which is set up under the House Bill; and certainly, in such a vital question as this—vital to Labor and vital to Industry as well—the final appeal in any case in which an order is fixed should go to our highest Appellate Court, and not be, as it is, in the House Bill, entirely under an executive board.

Therefore, Mr. President, believing that the bill fills a great need in Pennsylvania, that it is fair to Labor and that it is fair also to Capital, that it brings in the principle of a fair deal, I ask that this bill be approved by the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the most serious objection, I think, to this bill is the provision that before anything can be started fifty citizens must petition the Secretary of Labor about the wages of women and children in their district or neighborhood. This bill applies particularly to factory towns, and I will venture to say there are not half a dozen towns, factory towns, where you can get fifty citizens that are free, or, at least, that feel free to sign a petition complaining about the wages of women and children in their factories. So that, of all the factory towns in Pennsylvania I venture to say you cannot get fifty citizens in any of those towns because of the power that the owners of the factory have over all the activities of the towns—whether in stores or business houses or in the way of employment; and therefore I feel that this bill is not worth the paper it is written on, because you can get hardly a town in Pennsylvania, a factory town, where you can get fifty citizens who at least feel free enough to start a petition, to go around among the citizens and get them to sign up fifty names. And even if that should be done, in rare cases, the Secretary of Labor then takes a hand, and, if he feels there is something wrong, then the Courts appoint a Wage Board—a different Wage Board in every little town, factory town, in Pennsylvania. The Wage Board has sixty days to investigate, and then it makes a report. The factory owners may file exceptions to the report, and then it goes further up—to the Superior Court or the Supreme Court; and the thing may be dangling around for a year before there is any relief.

I feel that the process is too cumbersome; and among the factory towns you cannot get half a dozen towns in which a petition can be started.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 39, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I agree very largely with the remarks of my colleague, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, and I think if we would just stop to examine a few of the provisions of this bill we would see how wholly impractical the machinery of the bill is to achieve the end which the bill purports to tend to.

Now, if we look in section 3 of the bill we see that all provisions relative to the investigation of wages, the compilation of data with reference to wages, and all matters of that sort, are put in the hands of the Department of Labor and Industry. They are the people who have the information, under the terms of this Act, upon which any action must be taken.

Then, if we go over to section 6—sections 5 and 6—where the Wage Board is set up, and its operation outlined, we find that this Wage Board is not purely a Wage Board with authority to determine, but they are more in the nature of a referee or a master, or a set of referees or masters, appointed by the Court to make findings for the Court.

Section 6 of the Act provides that this report shall be filed in the court, and either part, within ten days after its filing, shall have the opportunity of filing exceptions thereto. In the event that no exceptions are filed to the report of the Wage Board appointed by the Court for a specific purpose, then the Court makes an order putting such findings into effect as he sees it. The operation is the operation of the Court, and not the operation of a Wage Board.

The so-called Wage Board, under this Act, is simply an administrative agency of the court, and not a Wage Board with any powers which it derives except from the Court's action; so we find, in actuality, that it is the Courts under this Act who are the controlling feature in the determination of wage structure.

Then, after a hearing by the Board, and exceptions taken, the Court enters into another full hearing. Then there is an opportunity of appeal; and the Lord only knows when any determination of the problems before those Boards would actually take effect. In all probality, before a contested wage standard case would be determined the standard of wages in that community might have changed back and forth three or four different times.

Then, even presuming that it has finally adjudicated what the standard of wages will be, then, if we go on to section 8 of the Act, if the Secretary of Labor and Industry—now, mind you, we come back into the Department of Labor and Industry again before we can have any enforcement of this Act—then, to enforce a mandatory order of the Court, it requires notice by the Secretary of Labor and Industry upon the offending, or the allegedly offending employer, and after that there must be a hearing—a hearing, as I understand it, before the Department of Labor and Industry, to carry out the provisions of the Court which adopts the finding of the Wage Board.

I say, Mr. President and members of the Senate, the machinery set up in this Act is entirely too complicated and cumbersome.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I feel that I should say a few words in answer to my friend, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, by calling attention to the fact that section 4 of this Act provides: "The secretary shall have the power and it shall be his duty on the petition of fifty or more qualified voters of the Commonwealth to cause an investigation to be made of the wages being paid to women or minors in any occupation to ascertain whether any substantial number of women or minors in such occupation are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages."

I think fifty signers throughout Pennsylvania might be secured. And, furthermore, the Department of Labor can institute these proceedings without any petition whatever. In other words, the provisions are identical with the provisions contained in the House Bill.

Just to answer, for a minute, my friend the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, as to the cumbersome proceedings, I wonder if he has read the House Bill, which provides that the Department of Labor can accept or reject the reports of a Wage Board, make them impotent, tear them out, and make any such provisions that the Department may want; that after an order is made by the Department there is to be a kind of mass hearing, which is not defined in the bill, and with no chance of procedure whatever before a review of a competent Court.

I am sure that any one who will carefully compare the two bills will find that the uncertainties and the cumbersome procedure are all in the House Bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I regard this bill as involving principles such that I do not think we ought to be too hasty in preventing discussion. In the first place, I think that I express the opinion of a large number of the members of this body when I say I do not like hypocrisy. We ought to be fair, and we ought to investigate a bill of this kind very thoroughly before we make our minds up to vote one way or the other. Since I have been a member of this Senate I have developed a great respect for our colleague from Dauphin County, Senator Reed; but in the development of that respect I have also learned that he is a master strategist in the art of confusion; and when he makes elaborate and extensive argument in favor of any measure I always whet my mind to investigate the measure thoroughly before I give my approval or disapproval to it.

Now, I think that most of the arguments in favor of this measure are founded in hycocrisy. It is not so much the love of labor—love for labor that the proponents of this bill have, but I think that there is a greater love prompting their arguments; I think that they have a higher master than the laboring class—that they pretend they are defending when sponsoring this bill.

Now, this bill, Mr. President, no doubt involves a legislative function. I mean by that that the function of determining mnimum wages and minimum hours our legislative functions and not judicial functions. I feel that this bill is cloaked with the highest degree of hypocrisy in that the proponents of it do not have the moral courage to, here on the floor of this Senate, exercise their legislative functions to come to grips with the problem of minimum wages and sweat shops that have infested our State for many years.

The dealing with minimum wages and sweat shops is a legislative function, and, in order to shirk that duty that we have to these men and women who labor in these sweat shops we are going to pass that buck over to sixty-seven separate Common Pleas Courts of our Commonwealth, places where we know the masters of the proponents of these bills have always had sway—Mr. Grundy and his manufacturing groups; and today these Courts of this Commonwealth are the only bodies where Grundy and his followers have the greatest influence, for the actions of the past few weeks have fully demonstrated that they have no more influence on the legislative floors of this Commonwealth.

This bill puts into the hands of a body that is elected every ten years the function of determining what hours are appropriate and what wages are appropriate in sweat shops; and the people who are vitally interested in these matters have only every ten years where they can show their disapproval of the conduct of the men who will decide what are proper wages and proper hours; where, if we follow the act of the House of Representatives, the bill sponsored by the Administration, at least every four years the people that are interested in these measures can go to their polls and register their disapproval of the handling of this minimum wage and minimum hours measure.

I say that the proponents of this bill are camouflaging the purpose of this bill, and that their arguments are most hypocritical in their nature. These men are shirking on the floor of this Senate the duties that they owe those men and women and children. It is the duty of every Senator to indicate the appropriate legislation, and not pass the buck down to sixty-seven different courts of this Commonwealth, making it possible in counties where Mr. Grundy still has the dominant power for him to dictate the minimum wages and the hours of these men and women—from which we will probably have the debacle of probably having sixty-seven different scales of minimum hours and minimum wages in this entire Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, if this system is not consistent with confusion, consistent with the strategy of my colleague from Dauphin County, in confusing all matters in which Mr. Grundy is vitally interested, I cannot understand his argument.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to vote on this question at once and end this thing; but I cannot sit idly by, if the rest of my colleagues can, when there is a question of such great importance brought to the floor of the Senate, with so much unnecessary and unfair criticism on a subject which to my mind is of importance to both the manufacturer and the employee. I do not propose to sit idly by in this Senate and have the judges of the Commonwealth, and various other individual citizens, dragged out on the floor and personally attacked on a proposition which to me means more, as a citizen of the State, than it does to the other members of the Senate.

I think the arguments of my friend on the other side are most highly unfair. I think this is a new departure in the industry of Pennsylvania; this is something new, that we have never heard of before, something we are not used to. We are now taking the position that this Legislature shall delve into the management and functions of industry, and shall govern the rates and contracts between employers and employees; and it seems to me when we do that we should be very careful.

Now, I was one of those who were always opposed to the sweat shop theory. I have read carefully the reports of both sides—the minority and majority reports of those who investigated this matter; and while I am one of those who said, "This is no time for exemption of privilege to classes," I also feel that this is no time to appeal to the emotions of people, or to deal with their stomachs rather than their heads; because that, in my opinion, is always dangerous. Any one who fairly reads both sides of the question—the reports on both sides, as brought to this Senate—will come to the conclusion that while there are sweat shops in Pennsylvania, the large majority of the manufacturers in Pennsylvania are not dealing in sweat shop methods, and that it is just those few manufacturers against whom this bill is aimed.

It seems to me that any bill—or any law which we will pass—cannot be a legislative poultice plaster. You cannot stop people from stealing by passing a law, and you cannot stop people from treating others unfairly by passing a law; but what you aim to accomplish by passing a bill of this kind, or any other bill, is to bring a moral effect upon the people involved, to bring the force of public attention, of public opinion, not on the industry as a whole but on the persons involved in this practice, and then you can accomplish a great deal more. A man has a high regard for the reputation he holds amongst his fellow men, and I would not want to be called a thief, or to be called names in the public press; and if we can bring to the front—and bring to the eyes of the public—those few manufacturers who still persist in believing that they have a right to do that which they feel is just, without regard to the feelings or interests of others—if we can bring those people before the public, we can accomplish something.

I am glad that my friend, the Senator from Pittsburgh, Mr. McGinnis, said that his only objection to the bill is that it would be difficult to get fifty citizens to bring about a proceeding, because I can certainly answer his argument by reading him these words from page 5 of the bill: "If on the basis of information in the possession of the secretary with or without a special investigation the secretary is of the opinion that any substantial number of women or minors in any occupation or occupations are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages he shall petition the Court of Common Pleas of the county where the persons alleged to be receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages are employed setting forth the facts and asking the court to appoint a wage board * * *."

Now, this, in my opinion, answers any question that there will be any difficulty in raising the issue. The Secretary of Labor, under this bill, has a right to initiate the proceedings; and while the name of a certain manufacturer has been brought into the proceeding, I might say I am no follower of, and have no personal acquaintance with the gentleman.

The reports filed, both minority and majority reports of the Sweat Shop Investigating Committee, do not,, to my mind, indicate that there were any such sweat shop activities in his jurisdiction as would warrant the statement made on the floor of this Senate by my friend from the other side; and I want to say one thing—that so far as I, personally, am concerned, while I do not know whether this bill or the bill in the House, that you were talking about, will bring about the best results, I do know this is a step in the right direction, and I do feel that nobody has the right to make such a general statement, such a general condemnatory statement on the floor of this Senate as to the members of the judiciary of Pennsylvania without more authority than we have here: To say that we cannot trust the Courts of Pennsylvania to do justice to women and children is, in my opinion, one of the unfairest statements that could be made, and I protest against such a statement, and say that at least one place we can hope to look for the restoration of law and order in this Commonwealth is in the Courts of Pennsylvania; and I am happy to give to them the supervisory function offered by this bill, because I feel it is a step in the right direction; and I hope my friends on both sides will take the first step.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

NOTARIES PUBLIC

Commonwealth of Pennsylvanit,
Governors Office, Harrisburg, May 21, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

terfere with school attendance further limiting the occupations in which minors between fourteen and eighteen years of age may be employed or permitted to work and the hours of labor further regulating employment certificates and requiring minors under eighteen to procure such certificates and imposing on school districts the duty to issue such certificates go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 575 (House Bill No. 1220), entitled:

An Act to amend clause (e) of section five of the act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 1045) entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a Bureau of Rehabilitation in the Department of Labor and Industry and conferring upon the Commissioner of Labor and Industry the power to supervise and direct the rendering of certain physically handicapped persons fit to engage in remunerative occupations providing for the appointment of a chief of the bureau subordinate officers and employes and furnishing suitable accommodations and making an appropriation" by providing for furnishing artificial limbs to children over ten years of age.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, the bill which was attempted to be recommitted last night, and, as I said on the floor of the Senate, that it was my belief that it is a good bill, and that I wanted the Senators, before voting upon it, to make an investigation of its contents. The bill is nothing more or less than an amendment to the Act of 1919. The Act of 1919 created the Department of Rehabilitation, under the heading of the Department of Labor and Industry, and among other things, for people who are engaged in industry, who lose a limb, that Department has the right to go ahead and get a limb for the party so that he can be rehabilitated and go back into industry. But that Act also contains three clauses, and one of the clauses is Section E. This Act proposes to amend; it gives the head of the Department of Labor and Industry the right to purchase, at cost, for any person who is not engaged in industry, and who should be deprived of a limb, to purchase a limb for that party in the hope that he can be rehabilitated and go back to some type of work, and then pay back the Department in installments; and in a case where one is so indigent that he can pay nothing back, Section E of the Act of 1919 gives the Department the right to purchase a limb for a person of that type.

This bill on the calendar here proposes to extend the provision under Section "E" of the Act of 1919 to children over the age of ten years. Why is that necessary? I can think of several cases—and probably some of the Senators here have done likewise—where the Department has always held that the provisions of the Act of 1919 could not be extended to children, on account of the title of the Act of 1919, which said: "engaged in industry;" but under the early Act of 1919, Section E, Clause 5, it enabled the Commission to purchase limbs, as I have outlined, to persons who are disabled, or suffering from the loss of a limb, who were not engaged in industry, but they could not see fit to extend it to children.

Now, then, we have been here since the beginning of the Session talking about minimum wages, hours for women, unemployment relief and relief for the starving people, and it would certainly be a sad commentary of this Senate to say that we would refuse to become a party to enable the head of the Department to do what—to furnish a limb to a young fellow ten, eleven, twelve or thirteen years old, or an arm. Perhaps the father would have some sort of employment whereby he could in time pay back in installments the cost of this limb, and I do not believe there is a man in this Senate who has a full realization of the terms of this bill who would say to Tiny Tim, John Jones, Harry Smith, Mary Weaver, or Mary Smith, "no, we, as Senators believe in becoming agitated in unemployment, minimum wages, relief, but to tiny children we say, "you should get other help in being rehabilitated." Why?—because your parents are not able to buy a limb? Are we going to do that? I do not believe we are. If we are, there is lack of mentality, there is something wrong with our makeup. I believe, and so do you, that that youngster should be given an opportunity, and I have in mind this particular case of a young fellow up near Coaldale, Schuylkill County, with one leg off up near the hip and the other one up above the knee. There is a case where the Department said: "If we had the necessary legislation, we would see that the youngster would get two legs, and perhaps the youngster would be enabled to obtain some form of employment, and in time to come he would pay back the Department. Let us not have a black blot upon our record of this type. Let us pass this bill unanimously, so that these youngsters throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whose parents are unable to supply them with limbs that perhaps would enable them to work, to obtain some form of employment; let us do our part here and pass enabling legislation which will take away all doubt as to whether or not the head of the Department of Labor and Industry has the right or has not the right to furnish limbs to people of this type. I sincerely hope that this bill will pass unanimously.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Staudenmeier, be interrogated.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator how many people this will affect now, in regard to the number of children.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I am informed by the Department that it would be comparatively few. Most parents or relatives, or service clubs have been enabled to help out in various sections, and the requests to councilmen have been very few, and I am willing to go along and believe that many of the service clubs and charitably inclined citizens are willing to contribute one-half of the cost of the limb where the Department perhaps would make an outright grant, which would be comparatively small. In these cases where help is needed, I think we should be the interested ones to give help of this kind.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, may I ask if there is not some sort of a system by which they are taken care of now?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, no, there is no law on the statute books at all. It is entirely discretionary with the head of the Department.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, is there not some governmental system that helps?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, no, absolutely not.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I am for these youngsters, for any man that is crippled, but the question is whether it is advisable to set up at this time a bureau with an overhead expense and so on, that would go along with it, or whether there would not be in some way arrangements made to take care of the few that will come under this rather than put a great expense upon the State at this time.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, this Bureau already exists, and the head of the Bureau in his discretion is taking care of that. The machinery is already there.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 21, 1935

The House met at 11:00 A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Daniel C. Pope, Pastor of Wesley Union A. M. E. Zion Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee for this day and for the opportunities that it brings to us for rendering service under our fellow man, and to our state, to our nation, and to the world.

We realize that we cannot do anything of ourselves, therefore we ask Thy leadership, the leadership of Thy spirit in the things that shall be attempted here for the good of the people throughout this great Commonwealth.

We pray not only for the men that are here gathered in these halls, but for all such gatherings throughout the states of this Union and for those who are gathered together in the House of Congress in the capital of our Nation.

We pray for him whom we have elected to lead the ship of state and to preside over the destinies of our nation.

We pray our Father in heaven that Thou would'st in some way lead us out of the chaos in which we find ourselves now, that Thy people again may rejoice throughout the length and breadth of this country.

We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ, Our Lord and Master. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. OMINSKY. RESOLUTION No. 154.

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, The Fairmount Park Commission of the City of Philadelphia has grown in scope and control in supervising a tract of land which was developed from a nucleus of five acres acquired in the year 1812, to the proportion wherein it now has the control and supervision of over 6500 acres of park and park areas, as well as the many buildings and improvements thereon, and

Whereas, The said Commission may in its discretion dispose, distribute, or revise the aforesaid acres of land and all that is upon it, and

Whereas, The said Commission receives from the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia, and other public sources a large sum or money to disburse as it deems proper in the running of its affairs, and further

Whereas, It is alleged that the said Commission is czaristic in its attitude and considers itself a law unto itself, and

Whereas, This attitude was recently demonstrated when the aforesaid Park Commission "pickled" House Resolution Serial No. 191, Legislative Journal, Page 2817, which Resolution was unanimously adopted by this House on the 29th day of April and transmitted to the Park Commission by the Chief Clerk on the 30th day of April, said Resolution having advised the Park Commission that this House was in favor of placing the Park Guards who are under the Commission's supervision, on an equal basis with the Policemen and Firemen with regards to rest periods and vacation, and

Whereas, It is desirable that legislation be enacted properly to provide for the supervision, auditing, and control of the said Board, so that the said Commission may heed the voice of the people, and not the voice of a select few, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of Five members of the House of Representatives, whose duty it shall be to make an investigation of the books, records, management, and operation of the Park Board, also known as the Fairmount Park Commission of the City of Philadelphia, to the extent that may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Resolution, and for the information of the House of Representatives, and

Resolved, That the Committee shall make a report to the House of Representatives as early as possible, either at this session, if feasible, or at the next special session of general session of the House of Representatives, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Committee through its Chairman or through a majority of its members, shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters which are properly inquired into by the Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of the subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Moreover, each member of said Committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committ. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said Committee, or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Referred to the Committee on Cities.

By Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. RESOLUTION No. 155.

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1935.

Whereas, Acting under violent protest the House of Representatives passed a measure increasing the tax on gasoline two cents, and

Whereas, Such violent protest was stimulated by refiners and distributors on the pretense that the traffic would bear no such increase, that bootlegging would increase, that thousands of men would be deprived of work because of the decreased consumption of gasoline and because the unemployed and demoralized worker would no longer be able to use his car for transportation, and

Whereas, The $50,000,000 deficit of the Pinchot Administration has so depleted the fiscal resources of the state as to require through further dilatory sidestepping the complete exhaustion of the State treasury with insufficient funds to meet the fiscal obligations of the State to schools and hospitals, and

Whereas, The General Assembly has repeatedly borrowed from special funds to meet the exigencies of relief demands in lieu of regular and specific revenue to meet these relief obligations until work on highways for which gasoline tax is intended has been curtailed to a mere skeleton of maintenance and construction with an impending deficit for the present calendar year of nearly $8,000,000, and

Whereas, By agreement the Governor and the Senate have decided with the concurrence of the House on a one cent additional tax on gasoline, and

Whereas, With closed policy so declared the refiners by common agreement have immediately absorbed the additional cent originally intended for the unemployed by a one cent increase in the retail price of gasoline thus grabbing $11,000,000 from the poor, the needy and the laborer who uses his car to get to work, and

Whereas, Many Members of the House of Representatives have preserved the many tokens of protest and contempt inspired by these refiners, distributed through their agents and showered by unthinking constituents upon our heads with the declaration that the motorist can stand no further burden. Therefore be it

Resolved, That every member of the House of Representatives, now in possession of petitions, protests and denunciations (sundry and varied) now present same to the desk of the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for redistribution to said refiners and agents.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SCHROCK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHROCK. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill No. 2680, page 3680 of the Journal of May 15, I am recorded as voting "no". I voted "aye" and wish to have the record so corrected.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last Tuesday, following the vote on the Moomaw-Moran Bill, I was recorded in several newspapers as voting against this bill. Also yesterday there appeared an article in a newspaper which stated as follows: "Weiss is scored for Vote on Bills."

There were also some thirty thousand or forty thousand mimiographed copies sent out by the Taxpayer's Forum of Pennsylvania to all real estate agencies, taxpayers leagues, quoting me as voting against this bill, which is incorrect.

I was down with Mr. Gallagher and found the recorded vote on this bill. I was recorded as voting against the Woodside amendments, but I say now that I am for this bill.

To add insult to inquiry they recorded me in these pamphlets as being a Republican.

BILL LAID UPON THE TABLE

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MR. WELLIVER

Mr. WELLIVER asked and obtained consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, one of my great friends from Delaware County came to call on me today, and ex-Speaker of the House, my friend, Dick Baldwin.

STATEMENT BY MR. FINNERTY

Mr. FINNERTY asked and obtained consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the statement I desire to make today is very serious and concerns every member of this House.

On January 1 we were all sworn together, to me it was a great thrill, and to many others. It was an event that I shall never forget, but since that time we have had many crisies in this House, and I have listened and I have learned from the more experienced, and I might add brilliant, members of this House, both from the Democratic and the Republican side of the House; but since we have assembled here, and going through this House, many members have had sleepless nights and headaches when they were put on the well known "spot." I believe however, today we are on the threshhold of the greatest crisis that we have had in this session, and the crisis that I refer to is this afternoon's baseball game.

Mr. Thomas Rodgers, the proprietor and the owner of the Senate Hotel, has authorized me to offer to the player this afternoon, the one who will make the first legitimate home run, a reward. Mr. Rodgers will give that gentleman a case of good beer, but in order to decide what was a legitimate home run and what was a phoney home run Mr. Rodgers suggested that we leave to the Speaker of the House to decide, but I said that the Speaker has so many delicate and intricate questions to decide, and he lost so much energy in keeping the space in back of the rail clear that we decided to appoint three referees, and the three referees who can decide this big question will be the three representatives from the eighteenth district of Philadelphia, the Reverend Shepard, Mr. Ominsky, and John J. Finnerty.

In case Mr. Ominsky, who is one of the players is concerned in the play Mr. Jack Sheridan will take his place to decide this question. If there is no legitimate home run made in the game, then this case of beer will be given to the umpire to give to the member who is the most in need of a cooling drink.

The SPEAKER. What the Speaker fails to understand is what a member or members of the House would do with a case of beer. There is not a single member of this House who would in the least touch any intoxicating liquor.

HON. RICHARD J. BALDWIN INTRODUCED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have spotted among the visitors in the House today a man who spent a great many years on the floor of this House and who sat in the seat immediately in front of the one I occupy. He was known from one end of this State to the other, and he was one of the real war horses of this House. He is and he was a great constitutional authority. He served as the Speaker of this House and later served as a Senator representing the County of Delaware. Mr. Speaker, I would like to present to you and to the members of the House the Honorable Richard J. Baldwin of Delaware County.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will ask the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to escort the Honorable Mr. Baldwin to the rostrum.

Members of the House, it affords me a great deal of pleasure to present to this body one of our former Speakers, and a Speaker under whom the Chair himself has served. The Honorable Richard J. Baldwin of Delaware County.

REMARKS OF HONORABLE RICHARD J. BALDWIN

Mr. BALDWIN. The Speaker calls my attention to the microphone. If I attempted to address you through the microphone, it would have been like the old colored preacher who asked one of his members to say a few words.

The member said, "The trouble with me is that when I get up my mind sits down, and I don't have anything to say."

If I do not go to the microphone I think you can probably understand what I have to say, for on a number of occasions I addressed the members of this House from seat No. 1—down here where my colleagues, not my present colleagues, but the gentlemen from Delaware County now sit—memorable seat No. 1 that the old veteran from Delaware County, Dick Baldwin, once occupied.

I realize in this House you have many men or many members who are serving their first terms. I also served a first term. When I came to this House in eighteen hundred and ninety-five the first session in which I served, I thought I knew about everything that was necessary for a legislator to know. After I had been here about eighteen years, the book that I didn't know kept getting larger and larger.

Now, the problem of government is a great task; it is a great problem to be able to grasp because in this wonderful country of the United States and the great state of Pennsylvania there are so many interests that are intertwined and have certain relations to each other that to be a capable member of the Legislature and to be a Speaker of the House is a recognition of one of the ablest men you have in the state of Pennsylvania.

I thank you of course for the opportunity of speaking these few words to you. Were I to attempt to explain to you the problems that you have to meet, you wouldn't get away from here this afternoon in time to see the baseball game.

I thank you very much indeed for the opportunity to address you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes this occasion to thank the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, both on behalf of himself as Speaker and on behalf of the members of the House for the kindly remarks which he has given to us.

RESOLUTIONS

STATE LOTTERY

Mr. SOWERS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1935.

Providing for a method to advise the House of Representatives as to public sentiment on the question of financing Government functions by a State Lottery.

Whereas, taxation has become extremely burdensome and new sources of taxation are almost impossible to find, and

Whereas, taxation on real estate for school and general purposes has become intolerable, and

Whereas, unusual methods must be used to raise the money needed to finance the ever increasing functions of Government, such as Blind Pensions, Rehabilitation, Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Assistance, Disability Assistance, Funeral Assistance, Unemployment Assistance, etc., and

Whereas, the expense of maintaing the aforesaid Governmental functions should have a broad base, and

Whereas, it is the duty of all of the recipients of the bounties of all such Governmental functions to participate in the burden of their maintainance according to their best ability, and

Whereas, one of the unusual but profitable methods of raising money to finance Governmental activities is that of a State Lottery,

Whereas, the use of this method seems to be controversial by reason of the aggressiveness of what is generally supposed to be a small minority of the people, and

Whereas, the assembled Representatives of the people are in doubt as to the opinion of the public generally, and it is only right and proper that they should be advised as to the true sentiment of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Now therefore be it resolved, by the House of Representatives duly assembled that the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee appoint a sub-committee of five members of that Committee to conduct an advisory election in twenty-five of the Representative election districts of the State, which districts are to be chosen by lot, by the said Chairman, by means of mailing a postal card and a reply card to the duly qualified electors of said Districts appearing upon the registry or poll books of said Districts for the November election of 1934, and authorizing such sub-committee to adopt a method for the mailing and the counting and tabulating of the return cards, and reporting results to the House as soon as possible, and an item for the expense of conducting such advisory election shall be included in the general appropriation bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO 932

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 932, Printer's No. 383, entitled:

An Act to enable cities of the third class to adopt the city manager plan of government providing the procedure for the adoption or discontinuance thereof making suitable provisions for the conduct of city government thereunder and in connection therewith imposing certain duties on mayors city councils county commissioners and election officers was defeated on final passage on Wednesday, May 15, 1935, be reconsidered.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Lackawanna vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny and the gentleman from Lackawanna for their courtesy in making possible a reconsideration of this measure. I don't want the House under any misapprehension, or as the result of inattention to reconsider this bill and place it on the calendar only later to defeat it.

Unless it is the intention of the House to pass this measure, I have no desire that it be reconsidered, but I do hope that it is the intention of the House to reconsider and pass this measure.

I asked for a reconsideration because I believe the members of the House were under a misapprehension, feeling that this bill was an invention of my own, something for which I was primarily responsible.

I want to call the attention of the majority members to the fact that this bill represents the traditional Democratic view and is a measure to which the Democratic party in times past has given its approval.

The bill provides simply for option in the matter of operating third class cities under the city manager plan. It is an optional measure. If the measure is bad and the people do not like it, they don't have to take it. We have had the view of option urged upon this floor repeatedly. We have discussed measures which the members have refused to support, but have been told that if we will insert an optional clause in the measure, that those opposed to the bill will support it.

I say that the Democratic party in times past through its leadership on this floor has supported this bill and the more intelligent portion of the minority group has heretofore supported it, so I ask that this measure, because it is an optional measure, because it is a measure that leads forward in the matter of municipal government, and because it is Democratic, be reconsidered and passed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. SCHWAB and were as follows:

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

Amend sec. 3, page 3, line 16, by inserting after the word "persons" the following: "and the photographs of the proper persons"

Amend sec. 3, page 3, line 24, by inserting after the word "persons" the following: "and the photographs of the proper persons"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, by inserting between lines 9 and 10 the following: "The Chief Clerk of the House shall prepare and keep two executive dockets; one such docket shall be known as the "'Seeking Favors from the Departments Docket," and the other "Executive Legislative Docket." The Governor shall provide a desk in his waiting room at which a Representative, appointed by the Chief Clerk of the House, shall sit as custodian for the two aforementioned dockets. Every person seeking to interview the Governor to ask favors from Departments, shall enter his name, occupation, party affiliation, and such other data as the Chief Clerk shall deem necessary to acquaint the Legislature fully as to demands made upon the Governor for favors. Immediately such person shall have completed his interview with the Governor, the Governor or his Secretary shall note in the docket the promise made by the Governor.

In the Executive Legislative Docket shall be entered the foregoing information by any applicant seeking to secure the influence of the Executive for or against legislation, together with the legislation desired. The Governor or his Scretary shall have entered in said docket his consent or refusal to assist in securing the passage or rejection of the legislative request."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Turner.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before us pertains to the registration of lobbyists, but as I read the bill it pertains only to those lobbyists who come into the legislative halls.

If I recall the newspaper reports correctly, and as I remember the inaugural address of the Governor, this bill was inspired by the Executive. It was not inspired by the Legislative branch. As I recall the Constitution of Pennsylvania, there are three branches of the government, the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial, and it seems to me that if the lobbyists and friends and others who come here upon legislative matters pertaining to the representatives of the House and of the Senate, if they are to be registered, and if information is to be given, as this bill provides, as to why they came here, how much salary they get, and what they had for breakfast on the day they got here, and so forth, then there seems to be no reasons why the Legislature in its turn should not know something about those who visit the Governor's office and who interview the Governor and who ask for favors in the departments or for legislation. We have provided, therefore, in these amendments that there will be a desk placed in the office of the Chief Executive, and that the Chief Clerk shall appoint a representative to sit there. He will have two dockets, just as is provided for in this bill. In these dockets will be entered the names of those asking favors, what favors they want, and then afterwards, there may be inserted what favors were granted or if they were refused. If it is fair and if it is proper that those people who come around the legislative halls should have all this information given to them upon things pertaining to legislation and pertaining to us, then it seems to me that we in turn should know something about what is going on over in the Executive Department.

I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section was read as follows:

Section 4 Every person retained or employed for compensation to act as legislative counsel or agent by any employer shall before rendering any service in promoting or opposing directly or indirectly any legislation make written application to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for an identification certificate as hereinafter provided Such application shall be made on a form furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and shall set forth information similar to that required of employers by section two of this act The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue to the applicant upon the payment of a fee of two dollars an identification certificate if the employer has filed the information required by section two of this act and if the applicant is not disqualified under this act from acting as legislative counsel or agent Such certificate shall show the name of the applicant the name of the employer the particular legislative matter in respect to which the applicant is employed the duration of the employment or retainer the period for which the certificate is valid and whether the applicant is a legislative counsel or agent Certificates issued to the legislative counsel shall be readily distinguishable from certificates issued to legislative agents Such certificates shall be valid until the legislative dockets open at the time of their issuance are closed as hereafter provided It shall be the duty of every legislative counsel or agent upon demand to exhibit his identification certificate at any time to any member of the General Assembly.

It shall also be the duty of every such person so retained or employed or agreed to be retained or employed upon arriving in Harrisburg in pursuance of such retainer employment or promise of employment to register forthwith the Secretary of the Commonwealth his name the particular legislation he is interested in the date of his arrival and the probable length of time he will be present in Harrisburg on his legislative mission which information the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith certify to both branches of the General Assembly

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

Amend Sec. 4, page 4, line 26, by inserting after the word "certificate" the following: "and license plates"

Amend Sec. 4, page 5, line 3, by inserting after the word "certificate" the following: "and license tags as hereinafter provided"

Amend Sec. 4, page 5, by inserting between lines 19 and 20 the following: "The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue to each legislative counsel and agent license plates which shall at all times be worn fore and aft, and at night or when worn in dark places, they shall be illuminated. All license plates issued to Members of the Cabinet, or representatives of the Executive Department, shall be green in color; those to corporations blue; Public Charities Association white; Labor red; Chamber of Commerce, scotch plaid; Manufacturers Association black; and to Ordinary Pests, yellow. It shall be unlawful to make any discrimination or to show any preference in issuing numbers."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while you may, many of you, object to the knowledge being broadcast as to who visits the Executive Department and what the requests be and the answers thereto, if you will read this bill carefully, you will find that there are a great many penalties and you can get into trouble very easily. This scheme that I have devised here will provide for license plates, and they must be worn fore and aft at all times. They must be illuminated so that you can see them at night, because there are dangers, as you will see in this bill, of some one approaching you and you not recognizing him as a lobbyist. How are we to tell, because there are many people, the people who sit on the side lines, you can't tell whether they are lobbyists; they might think they are, but I consider that they are just friends.

These license plates are different in color so we can distinguish them. For instance, the Representative, Mr. Flynn, when he sees the black license plate, he doesn't get scared at all; that is the manufacturer's association. You take the Public Charities Association. That is a pure white. Now, Herman Tahl would recognize that right away.

There is a Scotch plaid in there. Of course, there is a significance in the color. For instance, the blue for corporations, everybody knows that every corporation is blue at this time with this Democratic administration, and, therefore, the color should be blue.

And the green, there is a significance in that. Green is for the members of the cabinet, representing the Executive Department.

I didn't want to give a red license plate to the labor people, because I have a lot of friends along the laboring men, but I was afraid that Darlington Hoopes would object if I didn't amend it and make it red. Therefore, I made it red.

Now, I say, there is a significance in this, that the Chamber of Commerce, as I said, is Scotch plaid. They have been on so many sides, on so many questions in the Legislature that Scotch plaid was the only thing that I could think of that would distinguish them easily.

If you will read the bill carefully, you will find this is a wise suggestion. While the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Kinney, may not want it in this bill, it may be a little troublesome for some people to wear license plates, particularly on the floor of this House, getting down in these seats too low, if they sit down so low in these chairs to make them uncomfortable. In this light scheme if the gentleman from Philadelphia, in his bill requires the illumination of front license plates, I think if they could be illuminated by some invention easily, then when you got in the dark halls of the Capitol or in the dark corners of the cellar, and you were found talking to some of your fellow Democrats, the Governor or Davy Lawrence would know right away to whom you were talking and get you straightened out by the next caucus on Monday night, so there is a very practical use in these plates. I trust the members of the House will go along with this amendment.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, whether he would tell this House if he is interested in the manufacture of license plates.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under ordinary circumstances I would refuse to answer that question, because I think it attacks the integrity of a member of this House. As I understand it, all license plates are manufactured in the penitentiary, and I seem to have been at large for quite some time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to make the suggestion that if the amendments pass, the gentleman from Delaware be given blank license plates to cover up the substance of the talk that he has just given.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman a little inconsistent when he urges the use of blue plates for corporations, when from the very beginning of the session, he maintained that corporations are in the red?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I see no inconsistency in that. I am not speaking of balances. I am speaking of the atmosphere that surrounds all the corporations, caused to a great extent, I think, by the multiplicity of bills that apparently were taken from the Digest of Laws, and which bills have been introduced here by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth section was read as follows:

Section 5 (a) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any person to act in any manner as legislative counsel or agent for or on behalf of any employer in respect to any legislation unless he is the holder of a proper identification certificate as required by this act

(b) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any person to employ directly or indirectly any person to act as a legislative counsel or agent in respect to any legislation unless the name of the person so employed and the information required by this act is duly entered upon the proper legislative docket

(c) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for a legislative counsel to act as a legislative agent or for a legislative agent to act as a legislative counsel unless the name of the person so acting is duly entered upon both legislative dockets and such person is a holder of the proper identification certificates as required by this act

(d) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any person to employ or retain or agree to employ or retain any person as a legislative counsel or agent or for any person to act as a legislative counsel or agent for or on behalf of any such person for a compensation dependent in any manner upon the passage or defeat or any proposed legislation or upon any other contingencies connected with the action of the General Assembly or either branch thereof or of any committee thereof

(e) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any legislative agent to render any service as such agent or to approach any member of the General Assembly directly or indirectly outside the City of Harrisburg It shall be the duty of any member of either branch of the General Assembly to report promptly to the Secretary of the Commonwealth each and every instance in which he is approached by a legislative agent outside of Harrisburg whereupon it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to strike the name of such agent from the legislative agents docket

(f) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any legislative counsel or agent to go upon the floor of either branch of the General Assembly reserved for the members thereof while in session except upon the invitation of such branch of the General Assembly

(g) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any public officer appointee agent or employe in the service of the Commonwealth to act as a legislative counsel or agent

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 5, page 7, by inserting between lines 13 and 14 the following: "In order that no lobbyist or Member of the Legislature may unwittingly violate this provision of the act, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall supply each lobbyist with a whistle of distinctive note which he shall toot in order that the Members of the General Assembly may be warned of his close proximity and thus avoid contamination."

Amend Sec. 5, page 7, line 24, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "except members of the Governor's cabinet and members of the Legislature."

Amend Sec. 5, page 7, by inserting between the lines 25 and 26 the following: "(h) It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any counsel, agent, or person to appear in public without license plates of the proper color, and duly wired for illumination at night when in service in dark corners."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendments.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as important was this question of license plates, and I warned you men that if this bill passes and you get into trouble because lobbyists do not wear license plates, don't blame me. I have sounded warnings before and you wouldn't heed them and you got into trouble. This time you are going to get into real trouble. This bill provides: "It shall be unlawful and a violation of this act for any legislative agent to render any service as such agent or to approach any member of the General Assembly directly or indirectly outside the City of Harrisburg."

Now, you might be on the streets of Philadelphia or on the streets of Pittsburgh or some place else, you might be walking along perfectly innocent, and a lobbyist might be coming along, who may be on a business errand innocently, going some place else, and he would be approaching you directly, and you would be approaching him directly. He might see you and turn down a side street; you might see him and turn down a side street; you would be approaching each other indirectly, and yet you both would be violating this act. Now, the only way I thought to avoid this, because you might not see the license plate and there might be a crowd of people present, it seems to me, is to have the Secretary of the Commonwealth supply a whistle of a distinctive nature that had a little different note from any other whistle, so that the lobbyist would toot it as he came down the street, and as he tooted it you could just into the nearest cellar or a nearby doorway or a pair of swinging doors. If then anybody approached you, you could honestly say, "well, I was just buying a drink of beer." That would be your story and you would stick to it.

This is vitally important. The other, you might get away with, because you might happen to know the lobbyist, but this "directly" or "indirectly" is much more stringent and as a result you might be fined and put in prison. Therefore, I do not see any other way out of this difficulty than to have the whistle, as I have suggested. I therefore, ask the House to go along with these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth sections and the title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 6 The legislative dockets shall be closed biennially upon the adjournment of the General Assembly and the dockets for the ensuing two years shall then be opened The Secretary of the Commonwealth may adopt such rules and regulations as he shall deem necessary for the keeping of such legislative dockets

Section 13 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to affect or apply to State or county fair and exhibitions conducted by incorporated agricultural associations and societies and hunt clubs where no betting or wagering on races is permitted

Section 14 Licenses shall not be granted under this act for the holding or conducting of any horse racing meeting within any county unless a majority of electors of the State and of the county voting on the question of granting such licenses when said question was last submitted to them as hereinafter provided have voted in the affirmative

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall if proper petitions have been filed cause to be placed on the official ballot to be used in the several counties of the State at any municipal or general election the following questions

(A)	Shall the pari-mutuel system of betting on licensed horse races be permitted in this State?	Yes
		No

(B)	Shall the pari-mutuel system of betting on licensed horse races be permitted in this County?	Yes
		No

Upon petition of five per centum (5%) of the registered voters of the State filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth not less than sixty (60) days prior to any general or municipal election the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall also cause said questions to be placed on the official ballot to be used in the several counties of the State at said election provided that said questions shall not be submitted to the voters of the State oftener than once in four years

If a majority of the votes cast in the State as a whole in answer to question (A) are in the affirmative such vote shall be taken to have authorized the licensing of horse races in this Commonwealth at which the pari-mutuel systeem of betting shall be permitted but if the majority of the electors of the State as a whole voting on such question vote affirmatively to question (A) and a majority of the electors in any county voting on such question vote in the negative as to question (B) then licensed horse racing shall not be authorized in such county If a majority of the electors of the State as a whole voting on the question vote negatively to question (A) then licensed horse racing shall not be authorized in any county of this State

Section 15 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to affect or impair any other provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 16 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Agriculture to be available for expenditure for the fiscal biennium beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven for the payment of the salaries and expenses of the State Racing Commission and the salaries and expenses of the secretary inspectors clerks and other employees appointed under the provisions of this act

Section 1 This department shall consist of no less than five (5) members and an additional member for each seventy-five thousand inhabitants over two thousand as shown by the last preceding United States decennial census all of whom shall have been residents of the city or of adjacent territory annexed to the city for at least ten years and shall not be of the same political party The annual salaries of such members shall be fixed by the council Provided That such salaries shall not be less than fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars per annum for the first two hundred thousand inhabitants of said cities with an additional five hundred ($500) dollars per annum for each additional seventy-five thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States decennial census and said members shall from time to time make all valuations for purposes of municipal taxation

They shall classify all real estate in the city in such manner and upon such testimony as may be adduced before them so as to distinguish between the buildings on land and the land exclusive of the buildings and [to] shall certify to the councils of said city the aggregate valuation of [city property subject to taxation] the buildings on land and of the land exclusive of the buildings subject to taxation by said city It shall be the duty of said councils in determining the rate for [each year hereafter] the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven to assess a tax upon the building equal to four-tenths of the highest rate of tax required for said years and for the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine to assess a tax upon the buildings equal to three-tenths of the highest rate required for said years and for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty and for each year thereafter to asses a tax upon the buildings equal to [five-tenths] two-tenths of the highest rate of tax required to be assessed for each such year respectively so that upon the said classes of real estate of said city there shall in any year be two rates of taxation

They shall triennially make a valuation for all [purpose] purposes of municipal taxation and shall have the power to administer oaths They shall have the power to make a new assessment in any ward or wards they deem necessary in any subsequent year other than triennial years in the manner prescribed by law for the triennial assessment Any property owners shall have the right to be heard by the full board sitting as a board of revision on appeal from any valuation The assessment as aforesaid shall remain the lawful assessment for purposes of city taxation until the next assessment Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal the act of July nine one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven providing for the classification of real estate and other property for purposes of taxation and for the election of assessors and prescribing the duties thereof in cities of the second class except so far as the same may be inconsistent herewith

The councils shall by ordinance make all further needful rules and regulations for the government of this department

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. POWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAW. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what is the purpose in sending this bill back to committee.

Mr. SHAW. The purpose, Mr. Speaker, is for further study. Several members have requested the chairman of our delegation that further study be given to the bill.

Mr. POWERS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the House at the last session and is the same bill that was here in 1933. I think they have had a considerable period of time to study the bill. On your desks yesterday you found a pamphlet, and today you had a letter in explanation of the bill. I can see no reason for recommitting this bill.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, I would say that the membership of the House this session is vastly different from what it was during the Sessions of 1931 and 1933, and we still believe, at least some of us do, that this bill should be given further study.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. POWERS and Mr. MENTZER and were as follows:

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an administration measure, was in the committee on Public Utilities for some time and was reported out favorably, and I can see no reason to have it recommitted for the purpose of further study. I ask the members of the House to vote down the motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is one of those authoritative bills. I realize only too well that I am not permitted to discuss the merits of this bill. I do not know whether you members have made a study of any of these authorotative bills. My motion to send this bill back for further study is made just for that purpose. If there were any bills or groups of bills that required careful consideration, bills affecting people in your own community, it is these authoritative bills, and this bill in particular is one of them. If you would refer to the bold changes that are made in the present existing law with regard to the regulation of Electric companies, being governed by the Public Service Commission,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver will state his point of order.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself to the motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the charges are admitted. However, couching my language as carefully as I can, may I simply say this to you: that you ought to give this bill your careful attention, more study than you have given it today, because of the manner in which it affects the people of every community in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and because of the bold and audacious and reckless changes that it makes in the present existing law. I ask the membership of this House, in order that you may study the subject with a little more care, and in the hope that after youhave done so, you will use a little more discretion in voting upon this bills, to vote to send this bill back to committee.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, in order that there may be no confusion in the minds of the members of this House, I wish to say that I am a member of the Committee on Public Utilities, and I am acquainted with the course of action taken on this particular bill. I am positive that most of the members of that committee do not know the contents of this bill. I wish to assure this House that the bill was not discussed in any detail whatever before that committee, but a motion was made as soon as the bill was brought in that it be reported out, and the motion was carried immediately. I do not believe that the majority of the members of this House are familiar with the contents of this bill. I wish to assure you that this bill has not come before you before after consideration, but in a most impromptu fashion. The motion of the gentleman from Philodelphia, I believe, is sincerely made for the purpose of enabling this bill to be carefully studied before it is passed. I ask all the members of this House who are sincerely interested in passing business legislation which will stand the test of common sense, not to vote on this bill until they understand its contents, and to support this motion to recommit for the honest purpose of further study.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this Bill, House Bill No. 2413, was reported from the Committee on Public Utilities two weeks ago in a meeting held that week. Inadvertertently or otherwise, the bill was lost and was not reported on the floor of this House. I think it was purely an attempt to delay the bill When a certified copy was presented last week, the bill was not brought up on the calendar. I do not think we should tolerate any further delay in acting on this matter, and I ask you to vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and seventy-one members having voted in the affirmative and seventy-seven members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.
